

Emily O. Townsend, married in New Brighton in 1888, and settled there.

Miss Mazie Okely and her sister Emily, live in Philadelphia with their brother Harry. Emily is an art teacher.

EIGHTH GENERATION.

Carry M. Morlan was born and reared in New Brighton, but early in life drifted West. She married twice. First at White Rock, Kansas, to Mr. Andrew L. Milligan, and next at Hardy, Nebraska, to James W. Longfellow. She now lives on a farm in Hardy.

Charles W. Wade was born in Pittsburgh. For a number of years he was employed in the business department of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Soon after his marriage which took place at St. Augustine, Fla., in 1895, he migrated west and purchased a fruit farm in Redlands, Cal. Subsequently he took a clerical position in the Union Bank of Redlands, but retained the farm, where he still resides.

Alice Morlan studied art while pursuing the occupation of school teacher. At the present time, and for some years past, she has had a studio and art school in New York City.

(a) The descendants of Elizabeth Okely, sister of John Okely, settled in the Eastern part of this State, chiefly in and around Philadelphia and Lancaster, although some of them moved to the far West. Henry M. Baer, a grandson, died in Salem, Oregon. His brother, Samuel C. Baer, is employed by a Pittsburgh firm in the toy business.

(b) It will perhaps be of interest to know that any of the Okely descendants, I believe, after fourteen years of age, are eligible as sons and daughters of the "American Revolution."

TOWNSEND.

So much for the paternal side of the pedigree. The record on the maternal side is fairly complete for nearly 300
