

Berry, Pomeroy County, Devon, and his brother was Sir Edward Seymour, Knight Baronet. His son

John Seymour, Senr., married about 1665, Mary Watson, who survived him. They had eight children. He died in 1713 at Hartford. Their son,

John Seymour, Jr., born June 12, 1686, in Hartford; died May 17, 1748; married 1693, Elizabeth Webster, who died May 15, 1754; had 11 children. Their son,

Timothy Seymour, born June 27, 1696, married 1727, Rachel Allyn of Windsor, Conn.; died Sept. 8, 1749. Their son,

Capt. Charles Seymour, born January 20, 1738, died May 19, 1803. He served under Nicholas Fish, an officer under Washington, in 1776 and 1777. He married Lucy Whitman Dec. 3, 1767. She was born January 21, 1745; died May 4th, 1810. They had 5 children. Their daughter,

Ruth Seymour, born November 14, 1767, died November 14, 1854, in Williamstown, Mass.; married Nathan Benjamin, who died in Catskill, N. Y. in 1813. He belonged to Capt. John Minthorn's Co., Col. John Hathorn's Regiment, Orange County, N. Y. Militia. They had 7 children. Their daughter

Abby, married Hon. Henry Lyman Sabin, M. D.