Children of George and <sup>946</sup>Avis (Cole) Butts.

<sup>78</sup> George Butts learned ropemaking in Newport, and moved to Warren, N. I., where he spent the rest of his life working at his trade. He was highly respected by all who knew him and many pleasant memories are clustered within his household. He married <sup>946</sup>Avis Cole, of Warren, ---- -- 1897. <sup>1797</sup>

They had

- <sup>147</sup> Ann, born in Warren, October <sup>7</sup> 30, 1898.
- <sup>148</sup> George, " " " September 20, 1800.
- <sup>149</sup> Enoch, " " " November 9, 1803.
- <sup>150</sup> Philina, " " " July 29, 1805.
- <sup>151</sup> Amelia, " " " December 27, 1807.
- <sup>152</sup> William, " " " January 5, 1809.
- <sup>153</sup> Betsey, " " " October 9, 1816.
- <sup>154</sup> James, " " " June 30, 1813.

<sup>148</sup> George died from exposure at sea ----- 1812. <sup>149</sup> Enoch was lost with his vessel at sea ----- 1824. <sup>152</sup> William died on his vessel at Richmond, Va. <sup>154</sup> James was killed in a boat by the attack of a whale ----- 1839. All were unmarried. The record of deaths at sea in this family is not a singular case in the Butts history, nor is it the only case when the ocean has obliterated the genealogical name in one branch of the family. <sup>147</sup> Ann married <sup>156</sup> Charles <sup>150</sup> Farrington. <sup>157</sup> Philina married <sup>157</sup> David <sup>157</sup> Farrington. <sup>151</sup> Amelia married <sup>158</sup> Preston <sup>153</sup> Pond. <sup>159</sup> Betsey married <sup>159</sup> William Martin, a master mariner, who was lost with his vessel, nothing being heard of either after the departure from him. These marriages were all in Warren.
