

are required for the Christian Ministry, but also in the study of Medicine, in which he attained the degree of Master of Surgery. He was ordained by the Presbytery of Perth on the 5 October, 1825.

“As he was justly considered to possess very high medical skill, and his attendance and prescriptions being entirely gratuitous, the applications were numerous, not only in his own congregation, but in the whole district around.

“He was indeed viewed as a generous and kind benefactor, to whom all of every religious denomination had equal access, and whoever made application to him was visited in the kindest and most courteous manner. Never, perhaps, was there man more loved and esteemed by all classes and denominations.” (Quoted in the Life of the Rev. James Hay, D.D.) He left an only son.

John Brown Brown-Morison of Finnerlie, born 1840, married 1864 Eve Magdalene Waugh, daughter of George Waugh, and grand-daughter of the Rev. Alexander Waugh, D.D., of London. (Chambers's Eminent Scotsmen.) He succeeded through his mother in 1866 to the estate of his aunt, Miss Morison Hay-Morison of West Errol and Cupar Grange, Perthshire, who was Institute of Entail under the will of David Morison, sometime Lord Provost of Perth, when he assumed, by authority of the Lord Lyon, King-at-Arms, the surname and Arms of Morison.
