

noting some palliating circumstance in their case. She is well read in the substantial literature of the age. As a wife she has stood side by side with her husband as a counselor and helper, always doing her part well, and never frowning upon him in times of adversity. They are a happy family, having raised two sons and a young lady, Miss Velma Grace Doud.

They all belong to the Universal Church.

William Walker; born July 28, 1821.

Mary M. DeLong; born November 22, 1821.

(Address, Bearlake, Warren county, Pa.)

THEIR SON—NINTH GENERATION.

1, Roy Curtis Walker; born in Freehold, Pa., April 8, 1874.

Cecil E. Walker is a farmer, occupying his father's old homestead. He resembles his father so nearly in his characteristics that a full description of him would be only a repetition of what has already been said.

Mrs. Ello Walker may well be an amiable, intellectual, kind woman, descending, as she did, from a union of the Curtis and Dewey families. Their son is a bright, intelligent boy.
