

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO'S

—NEW—

GAZETTEER.

Price, $3.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

A useful Gazetteer.—N. Y. World, Feb. 24.
A handy Gazetteer for advertisers.—N. Y. Sun, Feb. 15.

The work is extremely valuable.—Daily Dispatch, Columbus, O., Feb. 20.
It is a beautiful specimen of typography.—Democrat, Brookport, N. Y., Feb. 26.

A neat octavo volume, on tinted paper.—Daily Republic, Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 21.

It is the only work of the kind ever published.—Daily Times, Watertown, N. Y., Feb. 12.

The book is replete with valuable matter.—News & Bulletin, Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 24.

We would sooner part with any book in our library than Rowell's Gazetteer.—The Critic, N. Y.

Will be found valuable for reference by advertisers who use the country papers.—Courant, Hartford, Conn., Feb. 18.

It is altogether ahead of any Gazetteer of the kind that has ever been given to the public.—News, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 18.

The work contains nearly 250 pages, 170 of them being on matters of great importance.—National Eagle, Clarendon, N. H., Feb. 22.

To enable one to make his advertising investments intelligently, such a work is almost indispensable.—N. Y. Home Journal, Feb. 19.

The work reflects great credit upon the enterprising advertising house from which it emanated.—Gazette, Baltimore, Md., Feb. 25.

An elegant volume, just issued by those enterprising newspaper agents, Geo. P. Rowell & Co.—Daily Journal, Lockport, N. Y., Feb. 13.

Printed in an unexceptionable neat style, is composed of the latest and most reliable intelligence.—Daily Telegraph, Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 21.

The information is in a highly condensed form, so that the features of a particular point can be obtained at a glance.—Union, Rock Island, Ill., Feb. 22.

It is got up in the characteristically neat manner in which work is turned out from the office of the Messrs. Rowell & Co.—Journal, Woburn, Mass., Feb. 22.

It is a useful book of reference for business men and advertisers, and all successful business men, of course, are advertisers.—Standard, New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 15.

They have just issued a Gazetteer packed with information, the mechanical neatness of which is equal to the extent of instruction given.—Gazette, Yonkers, N. Y., Feb. 15.

Enterprising business men, who wish to take advantage of the advertising facilities of the country could not have a more useful work.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Feb. 16.

The volume is, for a card of business, the most expensive to the proprietors and the most useful to the recipients, that we have ever seen.—Gazette, Salem Mass., Feb. 21.

It is got up in the best style of the art, and shows what good printers can do, where they have good material and plenty of it.—Herald, Fort Smith, Ark., February 27.

This Gazetteer, got up in the usual handsome style of Rowell's publications, is intended for the use of those advertisers who use the country papers.—N. Y. Daily Bulletin, Feb. 4.

The neatness and thoroughness of the work reflects great credit upon the publishers, while to advertisers the volume is of superlative value.—Sentinel, Trenton, N. J., Feb. 24.

The Gazetteer, which contains information indispensable to all who wish to secure wealth by the surest and quickest method, viz., by advertising.—Traveler, Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.

Presents facts, more recent than those of the last census, concerning the population and business of the leading towns and cities in North America.—Am. & U. S. Gazette, Phila., Feb. 22.

Nothing more forcibly attests the extent to which the business of advertising has grown, than such a volume as Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Gazetteer.—Congregationalist, Boston, Mass., March 6.

The publishers of this admirable work give all of the information needed by the advertiser, in its most condensed form, as accurately as possible, and up to the latest date.—News, Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 20.

The information is of value in a general way to any business man. It gives him just what he wants to know on which to base his calculations of business in his own line.—Chronicle, Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.

The publishers conduct the largest advertising agency in the world, and their experience has demonstrated the necessity for such a work. They have made it just what it should be.—Bay's, Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 23.

Distance from important points is noted, situation—whether on river, railroad or canal; also, the business of the place, productions of the surrounding country, and number of publications.—Delawarean, Dover, Del., Feb. 22.

The compilation of such a book bears testimony to the immense industry of Messrs. Rowell & Co., and must inspire confidence in their reliability as advertising agents.—Southern Christian Advocate, Macon, Ga., March 5.

The data being up to the present year as accurately as possible, gives this Gazetteer additional value; and the name of the well known publishers is full guarantee of its reliability.—Herald, Salt Lake City, Utah, March 2.

It is a useful book, containing a statement of the industries, characteristics, population and location of all towns in the United States and British America, in which newspapers are published.—Monitor, Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 21.

The book may be perused with much interest by anyone desiring a knowledge of the various towns and cities of our country, even if not desired for advertising information.—Commercial Advertiser & Home Journal, Detroit, Mich., March 1.

It has been the object of the publishers to give all the data needed by the advertiser, in the most condensed form, as accurately as possible, and up to the latest date, so that it may be of practical use to him in his calculations.—Register, Des Moines, Iowa, March 1.

The matter is obtained from the latest and most reliable information which could be procured from the towns designated, and is set forth as clearly and as accurately as possible. The information is given up to 1873.—Public Ledger, Philadelphia, Feb. 22.

The plan involves the treating of each State and territory separately, the principal towns being named, with their population and industries. The position of each is also given, and any special characteristics belonging to it.—Palladium, New Haven, Conn., March 1.

This new departure of this well-known advertising firm is very opportune, and will receive the hearty commendation of all business men, statisticians and editors. It supplies a need not adequately filled by any previous publication.—Morning Herald, Utica, N. Y., Feb. 14.

Every merchant in the country should have one, and when he contracts for advertising, as he will, if he ever intends to be written down as one of the enterprising and successful men of this enterprising and progressive age, he will secure the services of the liberal and reliable