STATE CAPITAL, INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANA is bounded north by Michigan and Lake Michigan, east by Ohio, south by Kentucky, and west by Illinois. Its extreme length north and south is 276 miles; average breadth 110 miles; land area 35,910 square miles. About two-thirds of the surface is undulating or level prairie; near the Ohio and other streams the surface is hilly and often abrupt and rugged. In the extreme northwest there is a sandy tract, with considerable marsh land. The northeast abounds in oak openings and prairie land, interspersed with many small lakes. The soil is generally fertile, much of it exceedingly so; the richest is found along the Wabash, White, and White Water Rivers. There is abundance of coal of good quality. The iron manufacture is extensive, Indiana coal being particularly suited to this industry, but the ores used come mainly from the Lake Superior region, Missouri, and Tennessee. Indiana has some bog ore and local deposits of better grades which have been worked to some extent. There are some salt springs, good sandstone, limestone, fire brick, potter's clays, and kaolin. Limestone is particularly abundant, being practically inexhaustible in quantity. Indiana ranks high as a grain producing and stock raising State. Corn, wheat, oats, tobacco, and potatoes are raised in large quantities. Corn is the most abundant product, while of live stock cattle and swine are the most numerous. Butter, wool, hay, maple sugar, and sorghum molasses also, are important products; timber is largely exported. Manufactures are numerous and extensive, the chief industries being flouring and grist mill produce, lumber, woolen goods, furniture, carriages and wagons, iron and iron ware, machinery, agricultural implements, pork packing, liquors, metallic wares, leather, boots, shoes, and clothing. The most important fact of the present is the existence of a very large natural gas belt, said to be the largest known in the world, extending over 21 counties, or more than 6,000 square miles. There are 82 Counties in Indiana; newspapers are published in all.
