THE OLD HOMESTEAD OF 1742.

Ms. A. 9. 2. 1. 3 / 26

INTRODUCTION.

The facts contained in the following pages have been collected with much difficulty, owing to the small amount of information in regard to the family in the possession of any one individual. Each member of the family is earnestly requested to send corrections and additional facts in relation to the family together with the sources from which they are derived to, Chief Engineer, Wm. L. Nicoll, U. S. N., Navy Department, Washington, D. C. Should any letters of information not be promptly acknowledged, the kind writers will please bear in mind that the compiler is often on some foreign station.

Dr. John Nicoll, being the first member of the family in this country, is designated by, (1), which precedes his name, and, being of the first generation in this country, the number, ¹, is placed above his name. His children, being the second and third of the family, and of the second generation, in this country, are designated by, (2) ², (3) ². This method is continued throughout the register. These numbers include only Nicolls by birth, the children of the eldest son being taken first, then those of the second son, and so on through that generation and through each succeeding generation. No child can be given a number whilst there is living a son having a number preceding that of the child's father. No marriage is registered in which neither the man nor the woman is a Nicoll by birth.

In 1874 a fruitless search was made in the parish registers of West Calder and Linlithgow, and in registers of deeds, for the ancestors of Alexander Nicoll.

The origin of the coat of arms (vide page 28) has not been ascertained. These arms have been in the family from so remote a date that they have become accepted, apparently, without comment or inquiry. They are found on the seals of certain letters more than a century old and on the silver bowl, which is, at least, a century and a half old. Identical paintings are found in various branches of the family more or less widely separated, yet no one knows the source whence they arose.

On 14th June, 1878, an engraving of the old painting was forwarded to Mr. R. R. Stodart, of the Lyon Office, Edinburgh, Scotland, and the inquiry made as to whether such arms had ever been granted to any person, his attention being directed in connection therewith to the Nicolson arms in Burke's "Dictionary of the Peerage and Baronetage of the British Empire," London, 1870, page 826. On 1st July, 1878, Mr. Stodart replied, as follows: "The arms engraved are certainly those of Nicolson but the crest and motto are not registered for any person either of that name or called Nicoll." On 7th August, 1878, in replying to another letter, Mr. Stodart stated, "No one has a legal right to use the arms crest and motto, forming a complete coat of arms as described in your former letter, as they are not recorded in our books."

In Burke, as noted above, under "Nicolson" is found, "Arms (not registered in the Lyon office)—Or, a lion's head between three falcons' heads, erased, gu.; a bordure, of the last." This is the description of the arms of the coat of arms shown in the old painting. On account of this identity, Mr. Chas. H. Athill, Bluemantle Pursuivant of Arms, of the College of Arms, London, Eng., was requested, in a letter dated 24th December, 1885, to search for a connection between the Nicolson and Nicoll families, both having lived at the same time near Edinburgh. The result of this search, given in a letter from Mr. Athill dated 6th February, 1886, was, as follows: * * * "no record exists of your family history as connected with the Armorial Bearings of the Nicolson family * * *. There is no record of the Grant of these arms so that I am unable to say whether they were used by the family prior to the creation of the baronetcy in 1637." Again, on 17th March, 1886, Mr. Athill wrote, "In reply to your letter of the 5th Inst. I beg to inform you that no record exists of the original Grant of the Arms to the Nicolson family and as the right to use them has never been admitted they cannot legally be borne by any person. There are I regret to say many persons who use Armorial Bearings to which they are not entitled altho there are laws which are still in force against the practice." * *

From the foregoing it appears, that this coat of arms must have been assumed and used by the Nicoll family in Scotland, and, that the same is the case with the Nicolson arms found in Burke and described above, since neither is registered in the Lyon Office.

A copy of this FAMILY RECORD will be placed in "The Astor Library," New York City, and, in the "Newburgh Free Library," Newburgh, N. Y.

GENERAL RECORD.

John Nicoll, son of Alexander Nicoll of Haddieweel, parish of West Calder, shire of Edinburgh, Scotland, was the first of the Nicoll family of Orange Co. to locate on the Hudson River, purchasing the homestead lands there on 7th Oct., 1734. This Alex. Nicoll is the most remote ancestor of whom any record has been obtained. His son, John, held the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor in Medicine, from the University of Edinburgh. The medical diploma,* dated 12th June, 1724, reads as follows :

These titles were sent by Sir Alexander Grant, Principal of the University of Edinburgh, in a letter dated 5th July, 1878.

He came to New York* in 1711 and soon after was married in Boston, Mass.

In 1716 † he, Patrick McKnight, Gilbert Livingston and Thomas Smith, organized a congregation according to the discipline of the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, this being the first one in New York City, and on 5th January, 1718, ‡ purchased for £350 a piece of ground on Wall Street, 88 by 124 feet, where their first church building was erected in 1719. The site § of this church was in Stoutenberg's Garden on the north side of Wall Street between Nassau Street and Broadway. In 1750 the Rev. Alexander Cumming || was called as colleague of Rev. Mr. Pemberton, the pastor.

In 1720 a petition was presented to Wm. Burnett, Esq., Capt. Gen^l & Comdr in Chief of N. Y., which, after stating the condition of the presbyterian organization, read as follows :

Samuel Miller, D.D., in his "Memoirs of the Rev. John Rodgers, D.D., late pastor of the Wall-Street and Brick Churches in the City of New York, 1813," says of Dr. Nicoll, on page 135: "His exertions in behalf of the church in New-York were as useful as they were unwearied. In a sermon, preached on the occasion of his death by the Rev. Dr. Pemberton, at that time pastor of the church, and which was afterwards printed, the following paragraph is found: 'These walls will be a lasting monument of his zeal for the house and the public worship of God ; in the erecting of which he spent a considerable part of his estate, and undertook a hazardous voyage to Europe, for the establishment and security of this infant society. Upon these, and other accounts, too numerous to be mentioned, while a Presbyterian church subsists in the City of New-York, the name of Nicoll will ever be remembered with honour as ONE OF ITS PRINCIPAL FOUNDERS, AND ITS GREATEST BENEFAC-TOR.'” During the visit to Europe, here referred to, Dr. Nicoll was made Burges and Guild Brother of the Burg of Linlithgow, Scotland. In 1729, the following entry appears in the Index of the Acts of General Assembly of the Church of Scotland: “The state of the collections for a Church to the Presbyterian Congregation in New York in America is set down. A letter of thanks is ordered to be written to Doct. Nicoll for his care about the interest of the foresaid congregation and a method is proposed for securing the foresaid church to the Presbyterians there to Posterity &c”

“As * long as Dr. Nicoll lived, the management of the temporal concerns of the church, was, by common consent, committed almost unreservedly to his care. He conducted them with so much fidelity and judgment, that very little real inconvenience was experienced from the want of a charter, and of a regular board of trustees. From the period of his death, in 1743, a different method began to be pursued.”

* “Memoirs of the Rev. John Rodgers, D.D.,” by S. Miller, 1813, p. 142 and 235.

During the Revolutionary War, when the British occupied New York, "The church in Wall Street was immediately seized and converted into Barracks."

In September, 1844,* the corner-stone of a new building was laid on Fifth Avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, and this church was opened for Divine worship on 11th January, 1846, by the old pastor, Dr. Wm. W. Phillips.

On page 87 of "A memorial of the goodness of God, in two discourses delivered at the opening of the First Presbyterian Church in the City of New York, 11th January, 1846, by the Pastor" (Dr. Wm. W. Phillips), is found the following:

"In illustration of how much may be done towards sustaining a Church, by a single individual, to whom God gives a heart and mind for his service—and also in justice to the dead—it may be mentioned, that the whole management of the temporal affairs of this Church, during the most troublous and trying times of her history, was entrusted, almost entirely, to Dr. Nicoll.

"All testified to his singular attention, diligence, assiduity, fidelity and perseverance in promoting the interests of the Presbyterian Church in this city, and to his success in sustaining them during his life. He has left behind him this honorable testimony, That he was as eminent for his piety as a Christian, as he was for his skill as a physician, and that the Presbyterian interest in this city is more indebted to him than to any individual who ever belonged to it.

"The secret of his usefulness and success was to be found, under God, in the interest which he felt in the Church. He set his heart upon the work of promoting her prosperity, and did not allow his mind to be diverted from it by any personal considerations, nor by the petty and pitiful jealousies which might be felt or expressed respecting him. He appreciated Church privileges for himself and comprehended their importance to others. He did not, however, wait for others to take the lead in perpetuating them—nor refuse to act because others would not co-operate with him. He did not say, ‘I can do without a Church if they can do without it’; but acting under a sense of his individual and personal responsibility, he adopted the resolution of Joshua—to the effect that whatever others might do, as for him and his house they would serve the Lord—yea, he redeemed the time and did with his might what his hands found to do for God.”

On 5th November, 1718, he purchased of Lancaster Symones one-fourth of a tract of land in Ulster County, N. Y., being on the south-eastern part of a triangular piece surveyed out of Minisink Patent, which first-mentioned tract contained five lots, Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6, lying in the angle of the triangle, containing in the whole 4,889 acres.

On 11th November, 1732, he purchased of William Sharpas, one of the twenty-three patentees, “one three and twentieth” part of the land granted in the Minisink Patent by Queen Anne on 28th August, 1704.

On 7th October, 1734, he purchased of John Waldron, Cornelius Van Horne and James Livingston four lots of land in Ulster [now Orange] County, N. Y., the first of which, containing one hundred and sixty acres at Plum Point, at the mouth of Murderer's Creek,* had been granted by King George I. on 6th August, 1720, to "Patrick Macgregere, otherwise called Peter Magregory." This formed "part of the lands formerly granted by letters patent to Capt. John Evans and since vacated and reassumed" and began "at the South East corner of the land of William Sutherland."

"Colonel Patrick Mac Gregorie,"† the father of this Patrick Macgregere, "came to this country in 1684, first landing in Maryland and then proceeding north to Perth Amboy in New Jersey. At the suggestion of Governor Dongan, in 1685 he removed to Plum Point, just above the Hudson Highlands, where he built a log house."

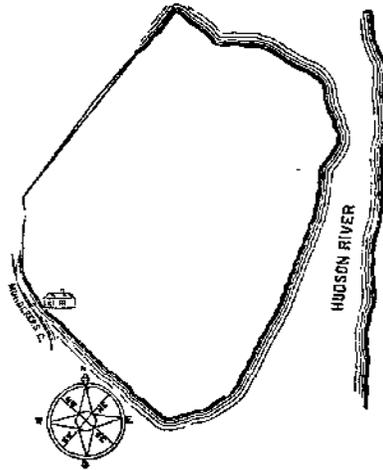

The following cut, which was obtained through the courtesy of Mr. E. M. Ruttenger, of Newburgh, N. Y., represents a very old map of this Magregory Patent, the record of which is in the office of the Secretary of State, in Albany.

* "This creek is first called Murderer's on Van der Donck's map, 1656, and was so called, doubtless, from events occurring during the first Esopus war."—Indian Tribes of Hudson's River, Ruttenger, page 94, note 1.

"Tradition affirms, in explanation, that at an early period a company of traders entered the creek with their sloop and were enticed on shore, where they were murdered on a hill still known as Sloop Hill in commemoration of the event; and this explanation is strengthened by the fact that the name of the hill is co-existent with that of the creek.

It is here that Paulding (J. K. Paulding, Book of Vagaries, page 131) locates his beautiful story of Naoman, so generally accepted as history."—Indian Tribes of Hudson's River, Ruttenger, page 378.

OLD MAP OF MAGREGORY'S PATENT FOR 160 ACRES.

The log house of Patrick, or Peter, is shown, and on its site appears now the old homestead where (2) John Nicoll² was living as early as 1742.

The frontispiece represents this old homestead as it appeared in those days, and does not show the additions which have been made since that time.

The second lot contained 2,000 acres, which had been granted to John Lawrence, 9th April, 1719, except 100 acres previously sold to John McLean. This was known as the Bethlehem Tract.

The third lot contained 765 acres, which had been granted to John Lawrence in 1731, excepting 100 acres (50 at each end, previously granted and sold to David Sutherland).

The fourth lot comprised six small islands in the mouth of Murderer's Creek, containing near 7 acres.

On the 26th March, 1735, he purchased of James Stringham and Daniel Everett Lot No. 3, beginning at S. W. corner of Lot No. 2 and to a stake standing in the N. side of Goshen road, containing 333 acres, except $34\frac{8}{10}$ acres; also Lot No. 4, adjoining the last, containing 337 acres; also Lot No. 9, containing 369 acres, together with $34\frac{8}{10}$ out of the W. side of Lot No. 8; also Lot No. 12 containing 328 acres.

These lots amounted to 1,667 acres.

On the 12th April, 1738, he purchased of Peter Post and Anne his wife, 500 acres on the north bank of murderer's Creek and just above the Magregory Patent for 160 acres.

On the 23d July, 1730, George Ingoldsby, the son of Mary Ingoldsby, deeded this land to Peter Post. It lies in the Mary Ingoldsby Patent. The plateau on this 500 acres, high above the creek, is called "Post Hill," and was so called in indentures over 100 years ago. It unquestionably received this name from its owner, Peter Post, previous to 1738. The view from this place is very fine, and in that here given, taken from its extreme eastern point, the old homestead is seen below on the bank of the creek.

This cut was published in January, 1858, in Harper's New Monthly Magazine in an article on "Idlewild, the home of N. P. Willis" (which is not included in this cut, being without its limits and to the right on the farther side of the water), and has been obtained through the courtesy of the Messrs. Harper & Brothers. A view from this hill is also used as frontispiece in "Cornwall," by Lewis Beach.

On 19th September, 1793, the Court of Common Pleas in Ulster County, on application, appointed James Clinton, James Carpenter and Moses Phillips, Esquires, commissioners to make division of the undivided real estate of Dr. John Nicoll, deceased, lying in Ulster County. This commission divided a little over 14,500 acres, the greater part of it lying in the Minisink Patent and angle and on Murderer's Creek.

Another commission, appointed by the Court of Common Pleas for Orange County in the February Term, 1794, composed of Messrs. Phillips, James Carpenter and Reuben Hopkins, divided about 1,000 acres, lying in the John Lawrence tracts, "Goshen Town Rights of a ballotted division in Wawayanda Patent" and "South East division in the township of Goshen."

"Nicoll,* John, M. D., a physician in New York, died Oct. 2, 1743, aged 63. He was a native of Scotland, and was educated at Edinburgh. Retaining the highest attachment to the doctrine, constitution and discipline of the church of Scotland, after his arrival in this country he was one of the principal founders and benefactors of the first Presbyterian church in New York, which was established in 1719. He spent a considerable part of his estate in erecting a house of worship. As a physician he was unwearied in his attention to his patients. The poor he cheerfully visited without the prospect of reward. His life was distinguished for benevolence and piety."

His remains were interred under the Wall Street Church, beneath the communion table.

His children were (2) John² and (3) Margaret².

† (2) John Nicoll² was sent to Scotland to be educated, and graduated at the University of Edinburgh where his father had received his degrees.

On 14th April, 1769, a Patent was granted by King George III. to this son, John, for Lots Nos. 37 and 45 lying in the “Minisink Angle which, on a division of said Angle in the year 1711, fell to the share of Wm. Sharpas;” “Lot No. 37 containing 1,420 acres” and Lot 45 containing 660 acres.

This Margaret Du Bois was the daughter of (3) Margaret². After the death of (3) Margaret² her second husband, Rev. Alex. Cumming, married again and his widow sold the property he had received from (3) Margaret² to Elias Boudinot, which accounts for Boudinot's interest in this Patent. The Patents for lands in the Minisink Angle were granted to secure the Angle to the owners of the Patent itself.

The children of this (2) John Nicoll² were (4) John³, (5) Leonard Dowden,³ (6) Isaac³ and (7) William³.

They lived at the time of the Revolution, and, with the exception of William, who was abroad and took no part in the contest, were all more or less actively employed for the Colonies.

* (4) John³ was commissioned Second Lieutenant † of a Militia Company of Foot (Captain Wm. Ellison) in the Second Regiment (Colonel Thomas Ellison) for Ulster County, on the 15th December, 1763, by Lieutenant-Governor Cadwallader Colden,—and again, on the 9th December, 1772, by Captain-General and Governor-in-Chief, Wm. Tryon, Esq.

The following extracts from the original papers at Washington's Head Quarters, Newburgh, N. Y., show that he was at work early in the Revolution.

May there to Join with Deputies from the several Towns and Precincts in said County For the purpose of Nominating and chusing a certain Number of Persons then to be agreed upon, in order to Join with other Deputies from the several Counties, in this Province in holding a Provincial Convention to be held at the City of New York on the 22nd of this Inst.,

“ The following was set on foot in the Precinct of New Windsor in the County of Ulster on Monday the Eight Day of May 1775, viz—

“ Persuaded that the Salvation of the Rights and Liberties of America depend Under God on the firm Union of its Inhabitants in a vigorous Prosecution of the Measures necessary for its safety, and convinced of the Necessity of preventing the Anarchy and Confusion which attend a Disolution of the Powers of Government. We, the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Province of New Windsor, in the County of Ulster, being greatly alarmed at the avowed Design of the Ministry, to raise a Revenue in America and, shocked by the bloody scene, now acting in the Massachusetts Bay, Do, in the most solemn Manner resolve, never to become slaves; and do associate under all the ties of Religion, Honor, and Love to our Country, to adopt and endeavour to carry into Execution, whatever Measures may be recommended by the Continental Congress; or resolved upon by our Provincial Convention, for the Purpose of preserving our Constitution, and opposing the Execution of the severall arbitrary, and oppressive Acts of the British Parliament; untill a Reconciliation between Great-Britain and America, on Continental Principles [which we most ardently Desire] can be obtained: And that we will, in all things follow the advice of our Committee respecting the purposes aforesaid, the Preservation of Peace and good order and the safety of Individuals, and Private Property.

By (4) John's³ will made on 11th Sept., 1781, (10) John Dowdin⁴ inherited the farm at Murderer's Creek and (8) Abimael Youngs⁴, his "silver hilted sword."^{*} The last "Item" of the will reads, "I nominate Constitute and appoint my said wife Hannah to be Executrix, and my friend, his Excellency George Clinton Esquire, and John McKesson Attorney-at-Law, to be Executors of this my will" * *

* This sword was brought from Scotland by (1) Dr. John Nicoll³. It is now owned by (67) W. L. Nicoll⁶ to whom it was presented by (34) L. F. Nicoll⁵ in 1867. For many years prior to this date it had been in the Smithsonian Institution.

By the will of Hannah Youngs, wife of (4) John³, (8) Abimael Youngs⁴ received a silver bowl,* having the family Arms† engraved on it, which (1) Dr. John Nicoll¹ brought from Scotland.

(5) Leonard Dowden³ was also a Captain of Militia in Colonel McClaughry's Regiment and was in service at Fort Montgomery at the time of its capture.

He was a member of the Committee of Safety‡ of the Precinct in 1777.

(6) Isaac³ was selected by the County§ Committee of Orange to be colonel of a regiment of minute men, and was commissioned as such on the 5th January, 1776, by the Com-

"That the thanks of this Congress be and hereby are given to Colonel Nicoll for his faithful service, and his strict attention to the public interest since he has been in the command at the said fortifications."

A copy† of the above was forwarded to Colonel Nicoll by John McKesson, Secretary of the Provincial Congress.

On‡ 19th May, 1776, Lieut.-Col. Henry B. I have made no dispute about the matter, but have issued all necessary orders in his name, having first (as I thought it most prudent) obtained his approbation of them."

“ KING’S BRIDGE, September 29, 1776.

“ DEAR SIR—I returned last night from Moriscany, which place I have been at for three days on command. I had a good deal of conversation with some of the Highland regulars, one in particular, who told me it was disagreeable to him to take up arms against us, as he had a number of friends among us, and wished heartily for a reconciliation. I asked him how many of the Highlanders were killed in skirmish the other night; he told me there was four killed, and one missing, which he expected we had taken prisoner. His account of Major Hetfield, was, that he was wounded just above the eye, and he thought, was in danger of losing his eye. I dont think that there is above fifty regulars kept on Montorzor’s island, they mount but twelve sentinels in the day, and double them at night. There is kept, I suppose, about five hundred on the island next to Montorzors, according to their tents and movements.

“ Capt. Lamb, and about 400 of our prisoners taken at Quebec, have got to Elizabeth Town; they were sent away upon their parole of honour, to return when demanded, and not to take up arms without a change of prisoners.

“ Mr. Taylor came from the line today, who acts as Brig. Major to Gen. McDougall, and says our people surprised a party of regulars in a house near their lines and got a chest of medicines.

“ I know of no movements in our army, or our enemy’s.

“ We have got our lines well fortified, our people chiefly under cover so as to be comfortable. Two large mortars from Boston, of solid metal, was day before yesterday carried to Fort Washington.

General Heath left the command with me until he returns, which expect will be in a few days. No news material. I am, in haste,

John Nicoll³ (see pages 20-28) married, 26th January, 1766, Hannah Youngs,* born 1st Sept., 1745; died 22d Feb., 1785.

They lived at the old homestead.

* Daughter of Abimael Youngs, who came from Southold, L. I., and settled in Walkill Precinct, near Goshen, Ulster County, N. Y., in 1731, and married Phebe Birdsey (or Birdseye); gd. dau. of Gideon Youngs (born 1673, died 1749) of Southold, L. I., who married Hannah ——— (born 1679, died 6th June, 1738); gt. gd. dau. of Gideon Youngs (born 1638, died 1st Dec., 1699) of Southold, L. I.; gt. gt. gd. dau. of Rev. John Youngs (born 1598, died 24th Feb., 1671 or 1672—Thom. Hist. L. I.), "a minister of St. Margarets, Co. Suffolk, Eng., aged 35, with Joan his wife 34, and six children, John, Thomas, Ann, Rachel, Mary and Joseph would have come to Salem, N. E., in the 'Mary Ann,' from Great Yarmouth, May, 1637, but was not permitted, as is seen in record at Westminster, where the margin of this part is inserted: 'This man was forbyden passage by the Commissioners and went not from Yarmouth.' As the whole policy of the ecclesiastical impolicy was withdrawn three years after, the puritan's desire was then, if not earlier, gratified. One report places him at New Haven, 1638-40." (Sav. Gen. Dict., IV., 672.) He removed to Southold, L. I., in Oct., 1640 (Thom. Hist. L. I.) ("Griffin's Journal. First settlers of Southold," Orient, L. I., 1857.)

Abimael Youngs had but one other child, a daughter, who married Anthony (or Abijah) Yelverton and had children—Mary, who married J. L. Moffat, 1779; Phebe, who married General Geo. Fleming, and Hannah, who married Joseph Denton, 1782-3. Mrs. Yelverton and Mrs. Nicoll both dying, their children were taken to their grandfather, Abimael Youngs, who left all his property to these seven grandchildren.

Joseph Denton, who married Hannah Yelverton, was the grandfather of Arrietta Denton who married (41) L. D. Nicoll⁴. Abimael Youngs was considered wealthy and miserly." ("Eager's Orange County," 1846-7, p. 553.)
