The Pacific explodes one of her own H. E. depth bombs (and she keeps it up twenty-four hours a day year in and year out) on the California coast at Coronado Beach.
© H. A. Taylor.

A new portrait of Lady Northcliffe, who has been decorated with the Grand Cross of the British Empire for her untiring efforts in relieving the sufferings of the wounded. Lady Northcliffe has been actively engaged in this splendid work for the past four years.
Hoppe.

A revised version of "Die Wacht am Rhein," as composed and played by a Yank doughboy of the 3d Division at Coblenz. The Fortress of Ehrenbreitenstein (whatever that means) looms up in the background.
Underwood & Underwood.

The Bush Building's castle in the air that nightly glows thirty stories above Bryant Park. Washington Irving's statue in the foreground has looked out on Fortieth Street for over fifty years.
Publishers' Photo Service.