You Are Remembered By Your Hair

Think of your screen favorite. Isn't her lovely hair the first thing you recall? Stage stars and motion picture idols by the score have won their first popularity because of a profusion of clustering curls or an exquisitely undulated coiffure.

When you form a mental image of your girl and woman friends, their hair is usually the clearest part of the picture.

Even if your hair is naturally straight and difficult to dress effectively, you can easily achieve the charming coiffure you desire, and do it without the use of ruinous hot irons or rigid metal wavers which cut the hair.

"Kurley Kew" Hair Wavers solve the problem. Put them on while you are dressing or resting, and in fifteen minutes your hair will be beautifully waved, ready to arrange in any fashion you admire, and with the appearance of thick, luxuriant growth that is craved by every woman.

Kurley Kews have a twist that produces a long, natural-looking wave, and at the same time a more lasting one, than can be obtained with any other waver. They are soft, pliable, and have a braided washable cotton covering, so that it is impossible for them to injure the hair in any way.

Kurley Kews come in two sizes, four-inch for general use, and six-inch for those with an exceptionally heavy growth of hair and children's long curls. Six of the four-inch or four of the six-inch are sold in a package for ten cents. Ten of the six-inch wavers come in a larger package for twenty-five cents.
