

A hitherto unpublished aviator's photo of the remnants of Russia's once famous White Fleet, ice-bound at Helsingfors, which was captured by the Germans in April, 1918. Helsingfors, largest city of Finland, was next in importance to Cronstadt as a Russian naval base.

Motor scootering is quite the fad in London. Here's Hiawatha, famous educated monk, in a costume befitting her name, speeding down Piccadilly aboard a scooter to keep a theatrical engagement.

A new photo of one of the busiest men in the United States—the executive who is handling a large share of the nation's most important business during the illness of President Wilson—Secretary of State Robert Lansing.

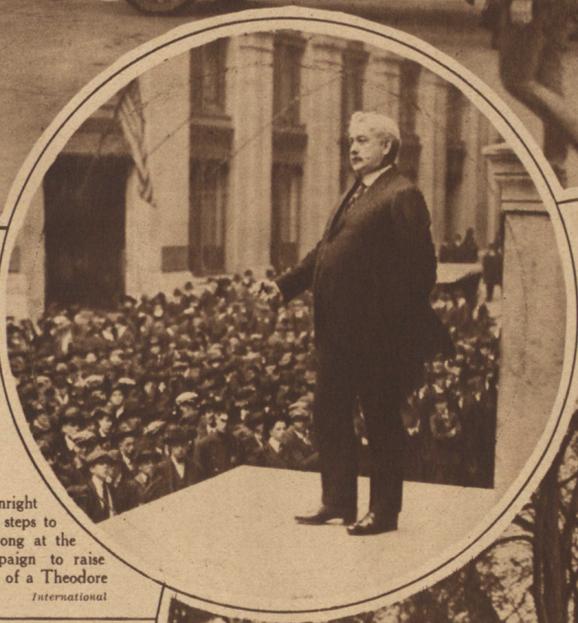

Left—Several companies of U. S. soldiers from Newport News disembark from the George Washington at Hoboken for guard duty on government piers during the longshoremen's strike that has so seriously affected shipping.

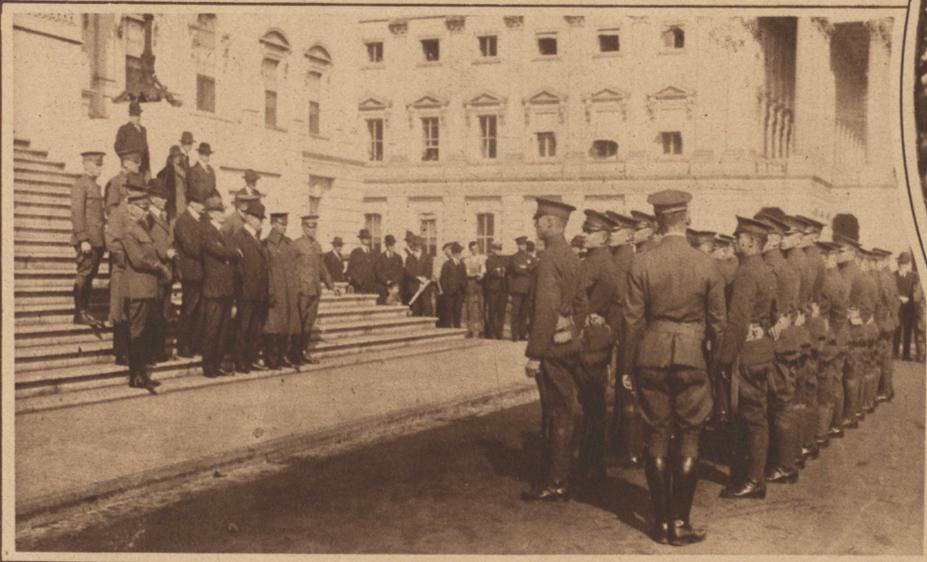

Welker Cochran tries a difficult massé. Cochran was defeated, 400 to 118, by Willie Hoppe, holder of all balking billiard titles, in the second match of the world's 18.2 billiard championship tournament, which opened before a distinguished assemblage in the Grand Ball Room of the Hotel Astor last Monday.

Left—The Rev. Father Augus. B. Lecerre, a blind Canadian priest, who has spent three years in Belgium aiding in war work, passes through New York on his way home to Canada. Father Lecerre has recently invented a letter writing device for the blind.

Right—Police Commissioner Enright speaking from the Sub-Treasury steps to a vast Wall Street noontide throng at the opening exercises of the campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the establishment of a Theodore Roosevelt memorial.

From the Capitol steps Senator Wadsworth, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, addresses an all-American recruit detachment from Camp Upton, an experiment in Americanization, which is to be sent across the country to demonstrate the new army system of training.

The Roosevelt memorial flag, which has been brought across the state from Buffalo by relays of schoolboys, being raised last Monday at Manor House, Van Cortlandt Park, where it remained over night under guard of a detachment of Boy Scouts. A star is sewn on at each stopping place. Tuesday the forty-third star was sewed on at the Theodore Roosevelt High School. The flag is due in Oyster Bay to-morrow, Colonel Roosevelt's birthday.
