

When BlueBird Enters Your Home Happiness Reigns on Washday

BlueBird relieves you of the most forbidding and detested domestic duty—washing clothes—work that requires the strength and endurance of a day laborer, and yet done by delicate women week after week.

BlueBird is the friend and servant that takes drudgery out of the home and puts happiness in its place. On washday the clothes are "on the line by nine" and BlueBird has done the work—without rubbing and wearing out the clothes—and done cleanly.

Clothes washed the BlueBird way last five times longer than the clothes washed on the antiquated rub-board.

Clean clothes, clean linen, all the time—chests full of them, and with so little effort!

BlueBird will soon save enough to pay for itself.

A small payment puts BlueBird in your home.
