3 On the 4th of November there went up a shout,
All on account of the Tariff;
When the Democrats laid the Republicans out,
All on account of the Tariff.
"There's too much McKinley says old Uncle Sam,
This talk 'bout protection is nothing but sham,"
And the Republican party went over the dam,
All on account of the Tariff.

4 The Democrat says prices now will be higher,
All on account of the Tariff;
The Republican says, "Democrat, you're a liar,"
All on account of the Tariff.
But one thing has gone up, and you can't rub it out,
The Republicans this year have gone up the spout,
And the cause of it all I've no reason to doubt,
Is all on account of the Tariff.

5 One party will tell you the duty's a tax,
All on account of the Tariff;
But remember each party is grinding his axe,
All on account of the Tariff.
You may shake 'em all up in a bag and you'll find
There's but little to choose for they're 'bout of a kind,
They'll all come to the front when the Booodle's behind,
All on account of the Tariff.

6 Whatever occurs in the future they'll say,
"It's all on account of the Tariff;"
If you go into business and find it don't pay,
It's all on account of the Tariff.
If your mother-in-law stands between you and your wife,
And you sigh for "Protection" midst discord and strife,
Don't blame the old lady nor threaten her life,
It's all on account of the Tariff.
