nig - ger by the name of Ink Pot Jack - son, Has fed this nig - ger once six months for noth - ing, Not stand most a - ny thing not out of rea - son, But this ran a - way and with him went my wife, Now this long a - go when he was out of work, Now my nig - ger's gone a lit - tle bit too far, Now dar - key'd bet - ter get his sins for - giv - en, For I wife if she'd come back I would for - give her, But noth - ing of this kind have I ex - pect-ed, I thought know that some day we are bound to meet, When we noth - ing short of death will be his fate, I will ev - 'ry one was hon - est just like me, But if do they'll be a strange coon sent to heav - en, And a look for him un - til the day of judg - ment, Yes, and ev - er I should meet this pair to - geth - er, Why I new black an - gel look - ing for a seat.

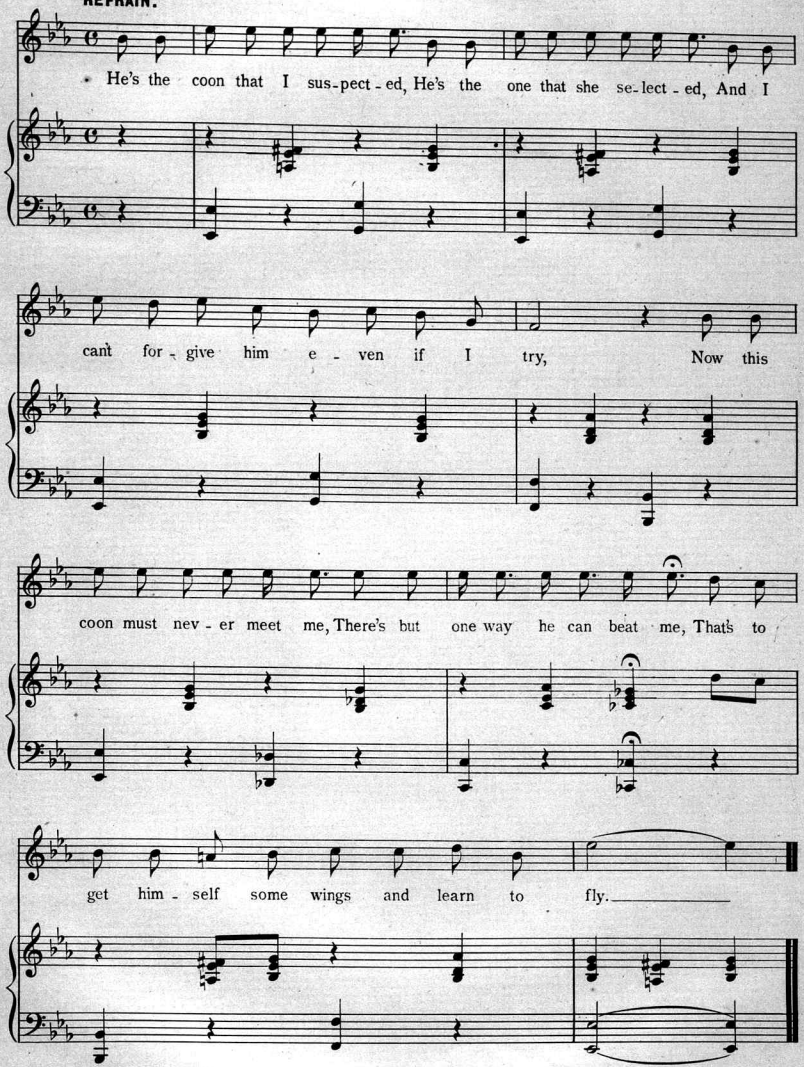
e - ven there he'd bet - ter show up late.
think they'll have to make new graves for three.

REFRAIN.



He's the coon that I sus-pect-ed, He's the one that she se-lect-ed, And I cant for-give him e-ven if I try, Now this coon must nev-er meet me, There's but one way he can beat me, That's to get him-self some wings and learn to fly.
