Price, Complete, 60 Cents.

A delightful spring song, consisting of light, graceful melody, supported by a rippling, brook-like accompaniment; an excellent program number.

To ALEXANDER NEWCOMB BACH.

THE MOON-BABY.

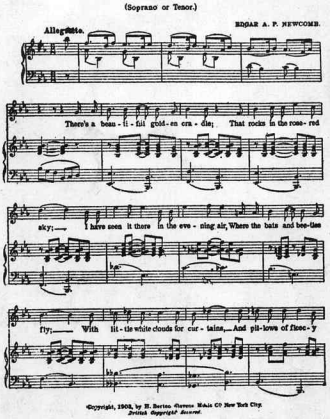
(Soprano or Tenor.)

EDGAR A. P. NEWCOMB.



Copyright, 1903, by H. Barton Stevens Music Co New York City.
British Copyright Secured.

Price, Complete, 60 Cents.

A dreamy little lullaby of quaint words and pleasing rocking motion by one of the best known modern song writers.

Published in two keys for high or low voice.

To Minnie Marshall Swift.

IN NICOTINA.

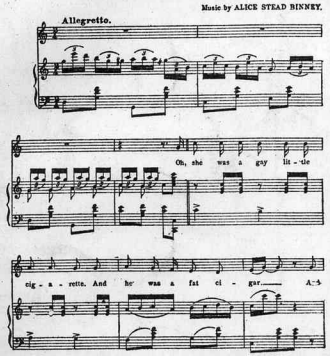
Music by ALICE STEAD BINNEY.



Copyright 1906 by H.Barton Stevens Music Co.New York.
International Copyright secured.

Price. Complete, 30 Cents.

The words of this narcotic lyric are not a bit drowsy, nor is the music lacking in cheery quality. The composer has made a very "takey" song of it. It is especially suitable for encore purposes.

Rosy, Nosy, Posy, Which?

Price, Complete, 50 Cents.

Rosy, Nosy, Posy! A childhood song for grown-ups, to be sung in narrative style; is replete with quaint humor. A very effective setting of droll words; not difficult.

Any of the above songs will be sent direct upon receipt of one-half of the marked price, or can be ordered through any reliable dealer.
