Dear Danny Kaye:

I never expected to be writing to you but after seeing you on the program last night "A Salute to John Ford" I just felt that I must. I was delighted that you had an opportunity to give UNICEF some wonderful publicity. Just last Friday I was talking to a lady who had stopped in the Capital Area Council of Churches office to leave material about Israel. She bought some UNICEF Note cards that are on sale. She mentioned that she felt that UNICEF did not get enough publicity for all the good work that is done. Of course I agreed with her, being aware of the work, and seeing it in action in Ecuador two year ago.

Seeing you with President Nixon it brought back some memories of your trip to Albany in 1968. I had to make the plans, and when I wrote to our Governor Rockefeller asking him to greet you at the Airport, I had a reply that he would be in New York because of Mr. Nixon going to be there. Then a call from one of Mr. Nixon's aids saying that Mr. Nixon would like to arrive early to meet you. I told him that your time was limited, but if Mr. Nixon would like to come across the airport to greet you that would be fine. As you remember not only Mr. Nixon and party, but also Governor Rockefeller and Senator Javits arrived to greet you.

In the Fall I always have a problem loaning your film "New Fashioned Halloween" around, everyone wants it at the same time.

Last Fall I was down to Liberty to help form a UNICEF Committee, and took your film down there. The lady who became Chairman was very interested as you are thought of so highly in that area, and may I add in all areas.

Keep up the good work for UNICEF.

Cordially,

Mrs. Harry F. Vance
State Representative for UNICEF
