A PLEDGE FOR FREEDOM

COL. E. M. MARKHAM, 303rd ENGINEERS.

The wide world stands a ghast, in awe, That the days of good, of right, Of This mon-strous thing that blasts the lives, Of peo-ples, small and weak, Is Our land is, fair, our peo-ple proud, Our Na-tion's heart is pure; It's jus - tice, truth, of neigh-bor love, Are dark-ened as by night.

ruth - less pow - er, loosed for gain, That God would not have men seek.
flag un - blem - ished, flings the call, That Lib - er - ty shall en - dure.

In sor-row, dread, in mis-er-y, The young, the weak, the old, The Shall we se-cure, be trou-bled not, Let greed of con-quest reign? No We pledge our lives our treas-ures all, That free-dom shall not die. We best of God's work, wom-an-hood, Are na-ked, hun gry, cold.

 no, we'll shed our last red drop, To make life safe a gain.
 beg our in-spir-a-tion from Al-might-y God on high.
