First Charge of the Cowboys

(At Terny-Sorny)

We are boys of the plains
With our saddles and reins
And our pistols and
Ponies so fleet.
When it comes to a fight
To uphold what is right
We would much rather
Shoot than to eat.

So look out, Fritz und Heinie,
Your helmets are shiny,
We're quick on the
Draw with a gun,
And the devil a track
Does he ever go back
When we once draw a
Bead on a Hun.

Terny-Sorny can tell
How we walloped you well.
Your Imperial Guard
Tumbled dead.
While our bullets sang true
To the Red, White and Blue
That so gallantly
Waved at our head.

So look out, Fritz und Heinie,
Your helmets are shiny.
We're quick on the
Draw with a gun,
And the devil a track
Does he ever go back
When we once draw a
Bead on a Hun.
