

42006

DEC 14 1917

©GEE414542

THE VOICE OF LIBERTY.

By E. A. Powell.

In mighty tones the Dear Old Bell, it speaks to men no more,
As it did to our fore-fathers in the trying days of yore.
But around it, and about it, in the hearts of loyal men,
Echoes still the same old message delivered by it then.

Oh, Brother, can't you hear the voice that's calling you and me,
Not to wage a war of conquest, but to fight for liberty.
Our fathers heard its call, and their lives they freely gave,
The heritage they left us we must fight and die to save.

The gates of our great country have always stood ajar
To receive oppressed humanity from nations near and far.
They have been received as brothers, now as brothers let us stand
In defence of all that's dear to us in this our glorious land.

So great and glorious has it made, this dear old land of ours,
That the voice of freedom calls us midst these dark and trying hours.
This mighty power to wield, where its cruel foes may be,
And to fight until the whole world, from oppression shall be free.

Chorus:

Awake: Awake: Awake: Awake ye loyal son,
A voice is calling you, it's calling everyone.
It's from the Great White Throne above,
The God of might, the God of love.
This mighty voice is ringing o'er the land, and o'er the sea,
Tyrants tremble when they hear it, 'tis the voice of Liberty.

M1646

.P

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DIVISION OF THE PHYSICAL SCIENCES
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

REPORT OF THE
COMMISSION ON THE
STRUCTURE OF THE
ATOMIC NUCLEUS

BY
J. R. OPPENHEIMER
AND
H. A. BETHE

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS
1935

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DIVISION OF THE PHYSICAL SCIENCES
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS
1935

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO