A War Bride

Words by STEPHEN MORRELL NEWMAN

Music by A. LEOPOLD RICHARD

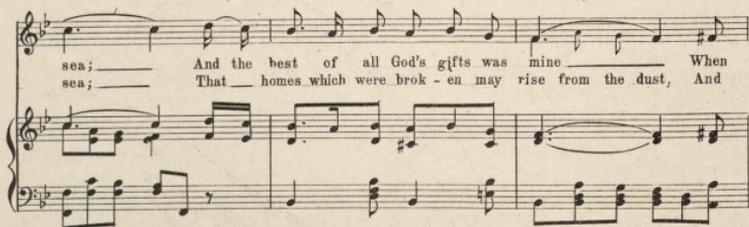

Mod^{to}

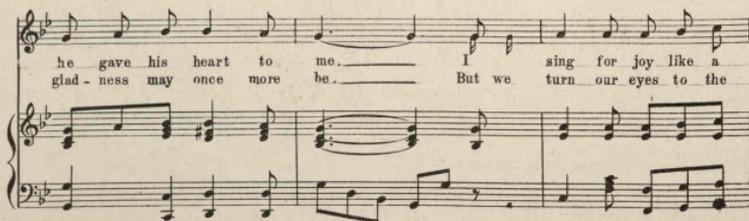

I fell in love with my sol-dier lad-die On the oth-er side of the So we whis-per our thanks my sol-dier and I, That peace has come o'er the sea; _____ And the best of all God's gifts was mine _____ When sea; _____ That homes which were brok-en may rise from the dust, And he gave his heart to me. _____ I sing for joy like a glad-ness may once more be. _____ But we turn our eyes to the wild, wild bird, For my sol-dier is brave and true; And the time that shall come, And sing the whole day through, For the place of my rest is the home we shall make In the land of the "Red, White and Blue."

place of our rest is the home we shall make In the land of the "Red, White and Blue."

CHORUS
And o-ver the shin-ing waves I have sailed With my sol-dier so brave and true, And the place of my rest is the home we shall make In the land of the Red, White and Blue. And Blue.
