But you're dear-est of them all. I can see the roll-ing As she prom-ised to be true. So while birds are sweet-ly prai-ries, And can breathe the fra-grant air, And Kan-sas-sing-ing, And the sun-flow'rs fringe the way, And wed-ding land shall be my home When I get thro' o-ver there. bells have rung for us, I'll be there to al-ways stay.

way, There is no place so grand, It's the fai - ry land, Of the whole world, I say. But when du - ty calls I'll fol- low, Fol- low all the way; Glad to fight for Un-cle Sam with all my might, But I'll come back some day.
