and old age were there all heart beat wild-ly with both pride and pain ~ ~ ~ This will make me stand more staunch-ly for the right while I'm a way and in a coat of blue Stood an old sol-dier true the Now for a cross the sea He's fight-ing glor-i-ous-ly and lived his boy-hood days a - - gain ~ ~ ~ Scuttled the lead-er of the oft he thinks of home a - - gain ~ ~ ~ and of those he knew the band beat beat-ly on the hand say-ing wont you play that grand old Then he tells the rest of his old friend and that grand old how the tears start when I hear it For it thrills this soul of mine It speaks to me of sweet li- - ty and the days of auld Lang Syne
