Un-cle Sam must bor-row, He must fight to-wag-on— On the road to vic-to-ry— And he tells each Yan-kee, mor-row, As he's fight-ing there to-day— We must lend our dol-lars.

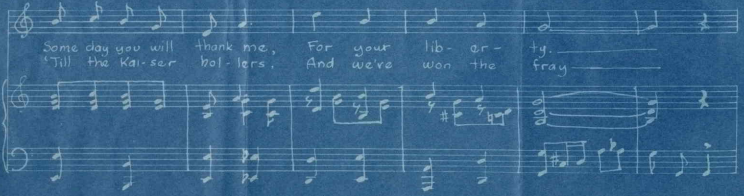
Some day you will thank me, For your lib-er-ty.
'Till the Kai-ser hol-lers. And we've won the fray—



Like birds of a feath-er, We must flock to-gether, So an-swer now his plea—
While the home fires burn-ing, keep the wheel a-turn-ing. And there is just one way—

CHORUS
If your pa-tri-ot-ism's real, Put your shoul-der to the wheel, And we'll roll in — to Berlin — Then tell the sto-ry of how dear Old Glo-ry was brave-ly car-ried in — So don't act like a don-key and balk on the road, For that's no way to win. — If your pa-tri-ot-ism's real, Put your shoul-der to the wheel, And we'll
