Introduction

p Slow time with feeling

Fare - well! moth - er, sweet-heart, wife;	We are off to join the strife.
Cour - age! moth - er, sweet-heart, wife;	Join your fore - es to the strife.
Loy - al moth - ers, sweet-hearts, wives,	Are the glo - ry of our lives.
Pa - tience! moth - er, sweet-heart, wife;	Soon there'll be an end to strife.

Off, with ea - ger hearts a - glow,	Off to lay the das - tard low,
Work with heart, and hand, and mind,	Lest the com - ing years shall find
'Tis for them we join the fray;	And please God, we'll win the day.
When we've "fin - ished" Kai - ser Bill,	O - ver - thrown his power to kill -

Who, to our be - lov - ed land, Would ex - tend the ty - rant hand.
 Our free land en - slav - ed, and crushed; And our songs of Free - dom hushed.
 Right shall con - quer might a - new, 'Ere we Yan - kee boys are through.
 Back we'll sail a - cross the sea, Pa - tri - ois of Lib - er - ty.

CHORUS Lively

Fare - well to our moth - ers, Our sweet - hearts, and wives; For their fu - ture safe - ty We of - fer our lives. The hor - rors of war, with our

Al - lies we'll share, 'Till we con - quer the De - mons of Hell "O - ver There."
