

MAY 28 1918

©CLE425129

RC

"MARCH ON - AMERICAN SOLDIERS!"

Song

POEM & COPYRIGHT BY DON RICARDO B. HARRIS = 177 BRADDOCK AV
EAST PITTSBURGH. PA

MUSIC BY

R. A. BROWN
790 DAWSON ST.
NEW YORK CITY

M1646
.B

16

marcato

forte

leg

chgo

Don
"March On, American Soldiers!" BY Ricardo B. Harris. of England

1

March on, Americans so brave, you soldiers as before;
March on with dear Old Glory going proudly on before;
March on ye sons of liberty unto the vic'try's goal;
March on, march on as brothers on to triumph and be bold;
To then defend our Liberty and honor as of old;
March on, o'er vale and mountain, as ye march upon the foe;
March on and strike for liberty's hearty lusty blow;
March on ten hundred thousand strong, we'll see your Banners go.

2

Go marching out to conquest with sweet music and with song;
March on the route to old Berlin; it won't be very long;
And strike so valiantly my lads, up where the Rhine begins;
March on through gory France to where the Line and Justice wins;
Spare not the coward who has let our prisoners pine;
For Uncle Sam is up in arms defending o'er the brine;
And wages war unto the end, regardless of expense;
Our cause is true it urges us, to now avenge all wrongs.

3

March on ye valiant soldiers all who yonder foe defies;
March on ye mighty host and then go trampling on the spies;
For ev'ry mother's son has joined a victory to win;
And they're all getting ready for the battle to begin;
Uphold our country's honor here and there and ev'rywhere;
March quick to conquest that will make our enemies despair;
The eyes of all the world we know are watching ev'ry man;
March on and strike right lustily with Liberty-in the van.

over

