MAY 21 1919 ©CLE424969

"Somewhere in Dramee" (Old Glory's waving.)

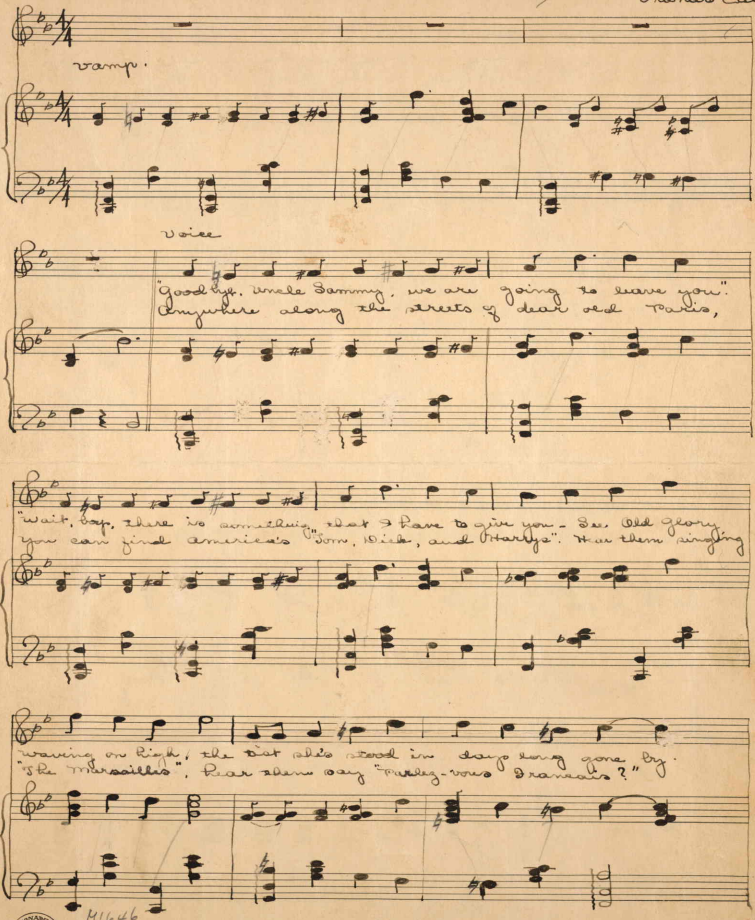
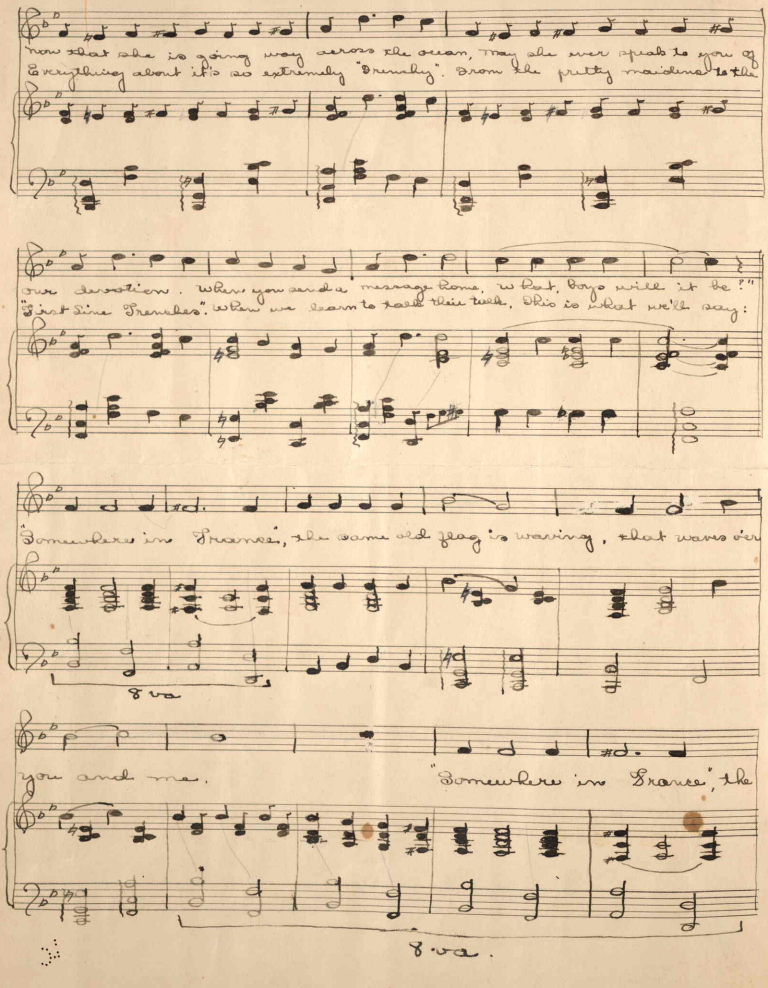
words & music by Dramo Cater



M1646
.C



now that she is going way across the ocean, may she ever speak to you of Everything about it's so extremely "Friendly". From the pretty maidens to the our devotion. When you send a message Home, w Pat, boys will it be?"
"First Line Trenches". When we learn to scrub their teeth, This is what we'll say:
Somewhere in France, the same old flag is waving, that waves over 8va
you and me. "Somewhere in France", the 8va.

battle is still raging. They're giving their lives for Liberty To the front we must away, and the battle call obey, We will never lose a chance. Here's to the boys who keep that red flag waving! Waving "Somewhere in France".

Nr. 3.—Carl Fischer, New York.

451551