“Uncle Sam is a Grand Old Man”

I've got to go to war to fight for Uncle Sam,
I'm glad to have the chance;
When I'm across the sea, will you remember me
While fighting in dear old France?
I think the German boss, with his old iron cross,
All look alike to me.
I'll say good-bye to home and friends
And fight for Liberty.

CHORUS

A bugle blows, now I must go
To fight for Uncle Sam.
Uncle Sam is a man who understands,
Grand old man is Uncle Sam.
When he starts to fight you bet he's right:
Uncle Sam is a grand old man.

The boys of Uncle Sam, with Stars and Stripes in hand,
On the firing line;
They'll beat the Germans yet, and before long, you bet,
They'll cross the German Rhine.
Fighting for their Country to save democracy
From the Prussian hand,
They'll win the war for Liberty,
And peace for ev'ry land.
