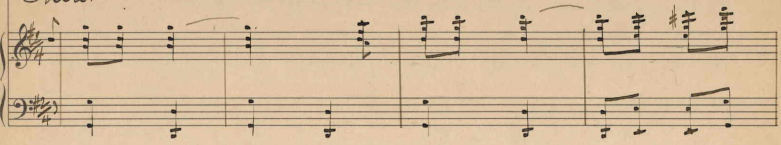
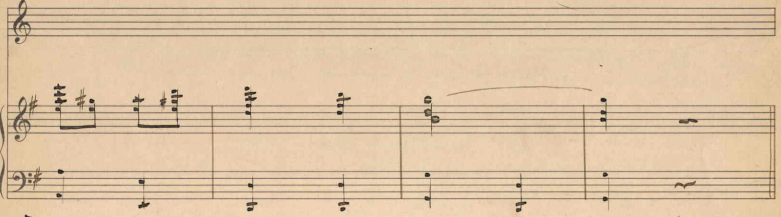
©CLE429758
AUG 21 1918

YANKEELAND
(~~You'll understand~~)

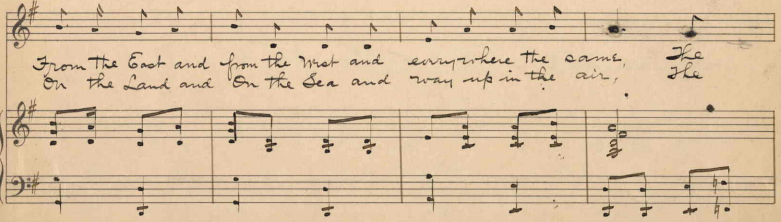
Words & music by Clint R. Carpenter

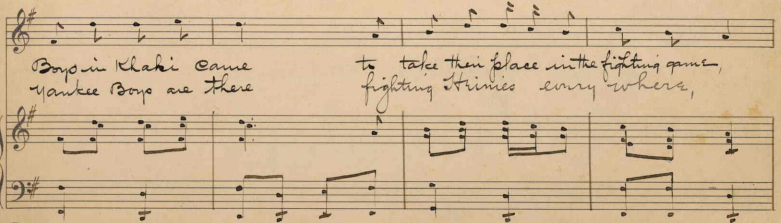
Intro.



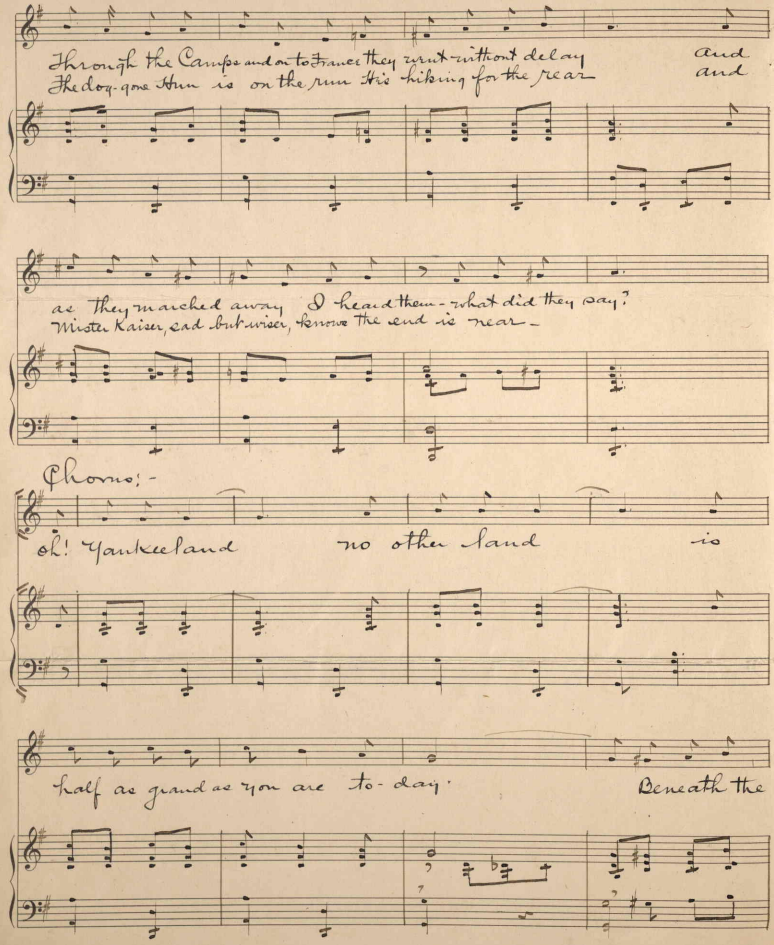


Voice.





ART REPRO
No. 4. M1646
.C



Through the Camps and on to France they went - without delay and He doz-gone Hun is on the run - is hiking for the rear and as they marched away I heard them - what did they say?
Mister Kaiser, sad but wiser, Remove the end is near - Chorus: - oh! Yankee land no other land is half as grand as you are to-day. Beneath the Red, White and Blue Will be fighting for you and the glory of the U. S. A — And when we've Canned the Kaiser and we've licked the Hun and the war is over and the vict-ory won, then dear old

Yankeeland you'll understand how well a Soldierboy can fight for you!

45/005