Words of Verse

Of war and a loved one I'm thinking
Of joy that has gone to stay
No one knows how my heart is sinking
With sorrow from day to day.

The flag of the free and the brave
He fought for until the last
Now the rows of white crosses speak of
The dreadful war of the past.

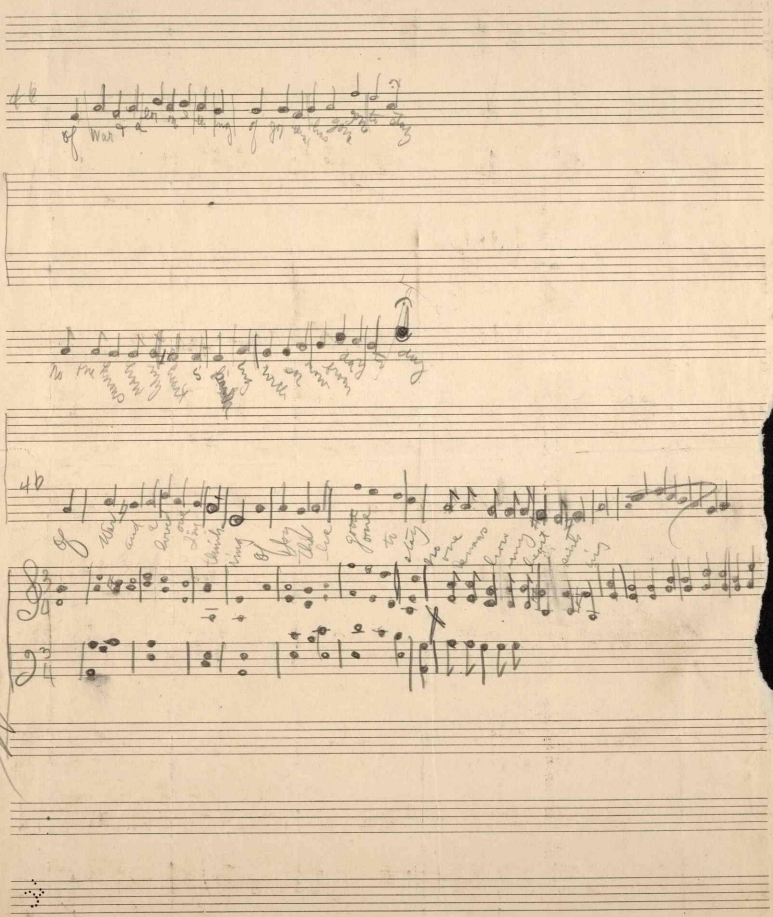
My Boy.

Of war and a loved one I'm thinking
Of joy that has gone to stay
No one knows how my heart is sinking
With sorrow from day to day

2.

The flag of the free and the brave
He fought for until the last
Now the rows of white crosses speak of
The dreadful war of the past

Chorus


My boy went over the ocean wide
My boy went over to stay
He lies in the field by the side
Of a comrad dear, they say
He is covered with the flag
Which he so nobly defended
I shall see my loved one again
When life's journey is ended.
