

YOUR BOY AND MY BOY

Words and Melody

BY

WILLIAM R. GARBUTT

WIN THE WAR

Published by THE PATRIOTIC SONG AND STORY SOCIETY
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

H1646
G

DATE OF PUBLICATION

SEP 12 1918

Your Boy and My Boy

Words and Melody by W. R. GARBUTT

Moderato

1. The
2. We mf

boys who gave us pleas-ure We hope to meet a - gain For worked to feed and clothe them, Help'd them to make their way, While they have been our treas-ure, And have not lived in vain E'en sol-ving many a pro-blem, Dark night and dis-mal day, When in their co-zy cra-dle In ro-sy rest-ful sleep — We hearts were full of sor-row, 'Neath bur-dens hard to bear — E'er kiss'd each dar - ling dim - ple, Oft play'd with them "Bo - peep?"

many a dread - ed mor - row, We knelt for them in prayer.

CHORUS

Your boy is sail - ing a - cross the deep sea, My boy is bat - tling for mf legato

you and for me Do - ing their du - ty mak - ing na tions free.

cresc.

Fight - ing for home - land and world lib - er - ty. world lib - er - ty.

poco rit.

poco rit. colla voce

D.C.

colla voce

1. D.C. 2.

FOR ALL HUMANITY

Tune

"The Marseillaise"

While at our ease and full of pleasure
 'Mid our peaceful plans, work and play,
 With our riches and splendid treasure
 We were dreaming by night and by day,
 We were dreaming by night and by day,
 When wild wailing that wakened the world
 Cried: the great dogs of war are loose,
 Thru devilish dreams and dreadful ruse—
 They run mad and foul with human blood.

We go, to face this foe!
 For this we have drawn the sword!
 We're there, for one, we're there for all,
 For all humanity!

Freedom's old friends her call are heeding—
 They're in the world-wide monstrous fight
 Where strong brave men now are bleeding
 For freedom, justice, truth and right,
 For freedom, justice, truth and right.
 Shoulder to shoulder they are marching;
 Facing tyrants on land and sea
 For home and human liberty.
 And all worth while our troops are fighting.

They're there for Victory!
 For home and liberty!
 They're there, for one, they're there for all,
 For all humanity!

Copyright, 1918, by Wm. R. Garbutt