

JUL 16 1918

Somewhere Across That Mighty Blue Sea

THERE'S A HEART THAT BELONGS TO ME

LYRIC AND MUSIC

BY

Charles V. Gross

GAIETY MUSIC CO.
PROVIDENCE — R.I.

M1646
.6

Somehere Across That Mighty Blue Sea

There's A Heart That Belongs To Me

Words and Music by
CHAS. V. GROSS

INTROD.
Slow with expression

VOICE

PIANO

1. A moth-er old and gray, just dried a tear a - way, She
 2. A dan-dy lit-tle miss, so hap-py full of bliss, The
 3. That moth-er and that miss, with ach-ing hearts they'll miss, That read a - loud with joy, a let-ter from her boy, She read and read a - gain, she note that gave her joy, was from her sol-dier boy. A trea-sure in her eyes, now sol-dier brave and true, who gave up all for you. And when the war is won, the seemed to talk to him, And when she kissed his price-less let-ter, she was heard to say;

 in her bos-om lies, And when she wrote him back a - gain this is just what she said;
 world a - gain at peace, They'll al-ways sing this sweet re-frain for those who went a - way;

*Food will win the war. Do not waste it

Copyright MCMXVIII by the Gaiety Music Co., Providence R.I.
 All Rights Reserved International Copyright Secured

REFRAIN

Some-where a - cross that great migh-ty blue sea, There's a heart that be-longs to me. He was all that I had, brave and true like his dad And I

With a heart brave and true, like the red, white and blue I'll be pray for my boy ev-ry day. Our Flag al-ways first, the world shall know, He was wait-ing my dar-ling for you. Though you may be gone a long, long time, I'll keep sor-ry to leave me, but read-y to go. Now some - where a - cross that pray-ing and wait-ing for sweet-heart of mine. For might y blue sea, There's a heart that belongs all to me. Somewhere a me.

