HOSKINS' SOUVENIR OF VICTORY

Liberty

BY HARRY HEISLER
OF HOSKINS

When Patrick Henry blazed the way,
And spoke on one eventful day,
He offered with his life to pay
For liberty!

When Washington unsheathed his sword,
The Colonists won their reward,
Because they fought with one accord
For liberty!

When Lincoln called a million men
To stop the blight that threatened them,
They rose and fought and died again
For liberty!

When Wilson answered Europe's prayer,
And heard the voice from over there,
Ten million boys were prompt to swear
For liberty!

So when Columbia calls to you
To buy a band to help her through,
Act as your forefathers would do
For liberty!

Her Gift

BY HARRY HEISLER
OF HOSKINS

WHO gave when her boy saw the first light of day?
Who muffled such movement at work
and at play?
Who shared all his secrets and pointed the way?

His Mother!

Who gave when her country cried out
for her son?
Who fought down the fear that assailed
everyone

As he marched off to battle the murderous Hun?

His Mother!

Who gave when a message from over the sea,
Told how he had died for the world's liberty?

Who locked in her breast all her life's mystery?

His Mother!
