JUL -1 1918 ©CLE428455

GOOD-BYE, BILLY HOHENZOLLERN, GOOD-BYE

WORDS BY REBECCA R. DAVIDSON

MUSIC BY E. ADELE LORD

moderato.

Introduction.

ritard.

slowly-deliberately. accel.

When Billy Ho-hen-zol-lern is forced to take his mailed fist off the world,
Then you will wish that your ambi-tion had been less, O, A-hem! A-
But you're less-son you have learned and bit-ter it must be, (with lips closed)

slowly-deliberately accel.

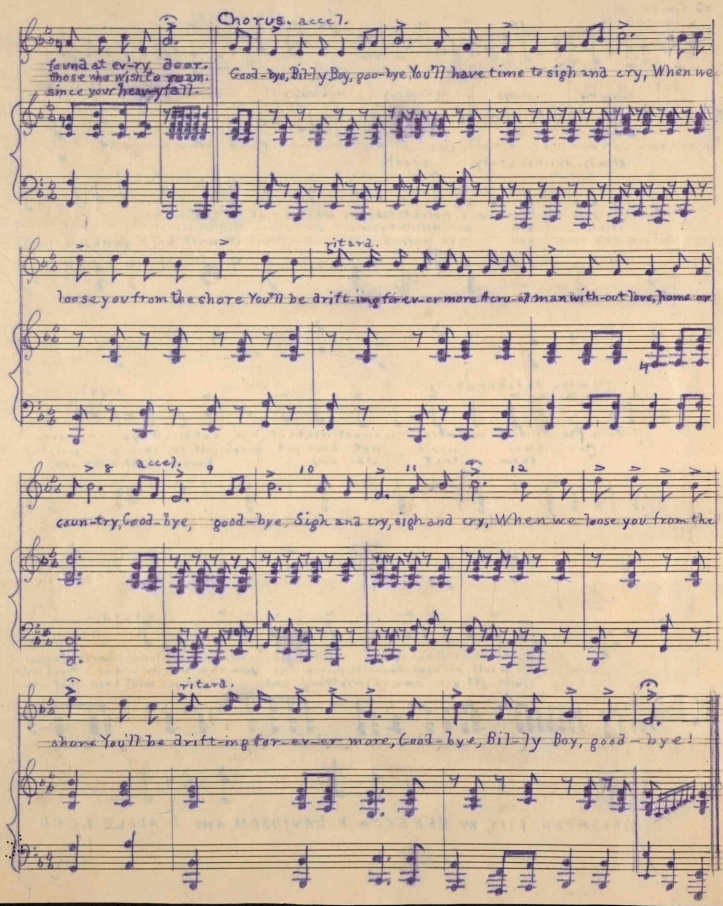
Then there'll be no meat-less, wheat-less, sweet-less, heat-less, eat-less days a-nymore.
hem! And you would not have put your-self in such a mess, O, A-
To know that oth-ers have a right to the sea,

ritard.

hem! A-hem No larder will be empty for there'll be peace and plen-ty and boun-teous stores to-
You would not have claimed the ocean as your own nor in it rear-fenced with
You thought you owned ev'ry-thing and all but you must know bet-ter

COPYRIGHTED, 1918, BY REBECCA R. DAVIDSON AND E. ADELE LORD

M1646 .L



Chorus. accel.
found at ev-ry door. those who wish to roam. since your heav-y fall.
Good-bye, Bil-ly Boy, goo-bye You'll have time to sigh and cry, When we
ritard.
loose you from the shore You'll be drift-ing for-ev-er more A cru-el man with-out love, home or accel.
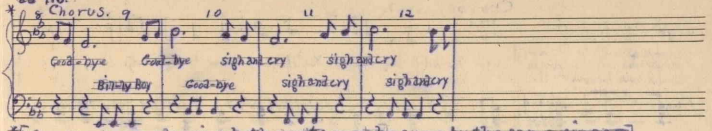
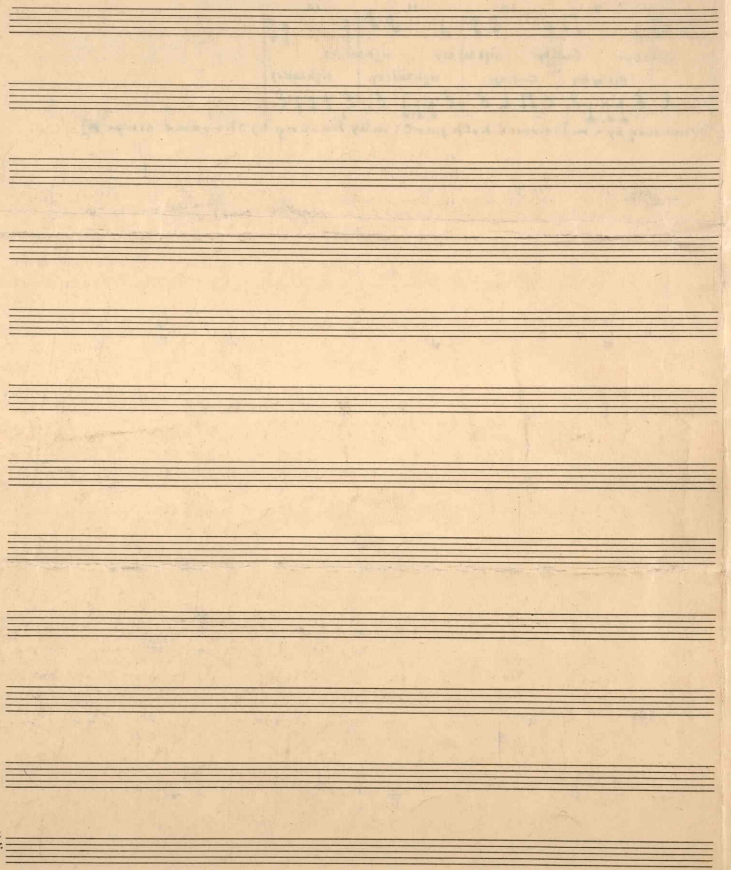
coun-try, Good-bye, good-bye, Sigh and cry, sigh and cry, When we loose you from the
ritard.
shore You'll be drift-ing for-ev-er more, Good-bye, Bil-ly Boy, good-bye!

ad lib.

* & Chorus. 9 10 11 12



†When sung by a male voice, both parts may be sung by the same singer.



454.03