Between Me and the Wall (part 1 of 2)

[Note: Nye has two false starts before he sings this entire song.]

Say of long courtships I'm not fond, You have courted now a year. To me more time is always, So please my virgin hear.

Our minds must be united, Always one what e'er be ????. Before I lie one night with you, Between me and the wall.

These questions I will put to you, And you must answer well. Yes, for I must have an equal [through?], Life with me to dwell.

My heart and love I give, To the one who answers all. And faithful I will ever be, Who answers my heart's call.

What is the bird that flies most high, And how does it come down? Yes where it lives, also its nest, Then how may yet be found?

Sharpest eye of living thing, That sees all, both large and small. And preys upon the farmer, yes, And many things that crawl.

Oh, your bird it is the eagle, And bold its wings rose in the fall. It nests in mountains and high trees, Preys on things large and small.

It lives in many countries, Guards it's young with fighting zeal. Of reptiles it is very fond, The farmer's stock will steal.

Where are the darkest day and night, And what fruit has a stone? The animal that has no voice, Stand wise to leave alone.

What reptile often bites itself, When a trouble ends it all? What ??? we often say, Sure loved to bite them ???

Now Egypt's darkest night, day and night, Are known the whole world 'round. The giraffe can kick but no voice, But you will well to make no sound.

What is higher than the heavens, And deeper than the sea? Who commanded ??? Which caused his foes to flee.

Highest mountain in all earth, Yes, likewise plead and fall. And why have storms upon the seas, So often termed a squall?

Higher than the heavens, And far deeper than the sea. Is mind of man triumphant which, Lives on eternally.

Joshua in Israel, Who spoke unto the sun. His foes he slew on every side, And how the rest did run.

Oh, highest mountain Everest, And [sequoia?] is a tree. And bridal veil for ??? So beautiful to see.

The storm called ??? squalls upon the sea. No warning to [avail?], And Davy Jone's locker oft is where the ships must sail.
