James Monroe to Thomas Jefferson

Richmond 3 Jany. 1801

Dear Sir

Mr. Tyler a nephew of the Judge will present you this. He is a young man of respectable talents, sound in his political principles, and of perfect integrity. He visits the federal city from a zeal to be present on the interesting occasion which is at hand, and I forward his wishes by making him personally known to you. Being a member of our assembly, and having attended the last session you will obtain from him information on every thing which occurred here that deserves attention.

I promised and shall send a copy if I get one in time, of the communication to the Genl. Assembly respecting the late conspiracy of the negroes. But shod. I fail by this opportunity, will send it, by the next mail, yrs. affecy. Jas. Monroe

RC (Jefferson Papers, Library of Congress).
