

WASHINGTON CITY

FRIDAY, MAY 13.

Nothing more strikingly displays the spirit of party than the conduct of the administration. It is more of the last session of Congress. Notwithstanding the extraordinary character of the crisis and the acknowledged necessity of union and cooperation will be seen, by a review of these proceedings, that the members of the administration have opposed every measure proposed for the defence of the nation, without offering any one substantial measure in return.

Since the outrage offered to the Chesapeake, more than five hundred of our citizens have taken up arms, and would have felt satisfied that whatever obstructions they may have encountered have been overcome by the administration. It has been expected to exhibit the character of a zealous co-operation with the government.

How possibly, however, has this expectation been fulfilled. Notwithstanding the influence of the noble and the patriotic, and the more to our regret, instead of co-operating with the government in the defence of the nation, they have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

frustration of this law would not have been the result. The revenue of the public sentiment on the enforcement of revenue laws is well known. It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

In Rhode Island, by a happy understanding between the British and the American governments, the political character of the state stands very well.

Later letters from Hamburg, recollecting the late news, state that the American property at Hamburg, under seizure by the French, has been released. A. T. Pater.

BRITISH ORDERS OF COUNCIL.

The British cabinet of this morning have issued orders for the suspension of the laws of the United States, in relation to the trade with Great Britain, and for the suspension of the laws of the United States, in relation to the trade with Great Britain.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

It is not only the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government, but the members of the administration who have been engaged in every way to obstruct the operations of the government.

In the western district, so far as we have received accounts, the public interest has not been neglected. To that district, if our countrymen shall be permitted to emigrate, that it will be saved, we derive the strongest hopes, not only from the verbal intelligence received, but from the circumstances, that since Monday evening, the federalists have ceased to exert and to stir up the feelings of the triumphant. It is said, indeed, that on Monday morning they put a stop to the operations they had been making, and which were in considerable forwardness, for a general and splendid exhibition of force, and the arrest of the British.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

By the arrival of the Herald of the 26th inst.

BARRING PAMPHLET.

Just received for sale, at J. M. ...

An Essay into the Causes of ...

Correspondence of the ...

... of the ...