Kayser double tips introduced not so long ago—today no silk gloves are made without them.

"The most important, most needed improvement made in any article of women's apparel for years."

A New Invention

Does for stockings what double-tips did for silk gloves

It has not been so very long since double tips on silk gloves were first introduced, yet today they are so generally used that few people remember that they were originated by the Kayser Company.

The new Kayser invention—the But-i-nol Silk Hose—consists of six strong buttonholes worked in the top of the stocking. These are worked on tape so they can't break. The moment you inspect the But-i-nol top, you realize the strength of the buttonholes. Adjust the garter clasps, then pull as hard as you can; you will find you can't possibly break the buttonholes! This will give you some idea of the strain they will stand.

They reduce the chance of a "run" to the lowest possible degree.

Your garters may be shortened or lengthened so that these buttonholes come in just the right place—neither too loose nor too tight. Every woman who has tested them says that they are the greatest, most needed improvement made in any article of women's apparel for years.

Costs no more—every good dealer has them.

In black, white, and all the fashionable shades.

"The flavor I have been trying to get for years"

A Yuban dealer in Greenwich, Conn., tells us that he had never been able to suit one of his best customers with coffee; he had tried for years but never could please him.

He persuaded this man to try Yuban. The next morning his customer stopped in the store to say "Now, you are selling coffee—coffee that has just the flavor I have been trying to get for the last ten years".

Get a package of Yuban from your grocer. See how much your family enjoys its remarkable flavor.
