

MORTARS ABANDONED BY THE GERMANS IN THE FLOODED SECTION OF FLANDERS SALVED BY THE ALLIES AND BROUGHT TO PERVYSE

GERMAN SOLDIERS ON OUTPOST DUTY NEAR ANTWERP SHARING THEIR FOOD WITH LITTLE BELGIAN ORPHANS.
(Photos (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

THE GERMAN EMPEROR RECEIVING A REPORT FROM AN AID-DE-CAMP
This is Believed to be the First Photograph of the Kaiser, Taken Since the War Began, to Reach This Country
(Photo (C) by International News Service.)

THE CHRISTMAS SHIP, U. S. NAVAL COLLIER JASON, REACHING PORTSMOUTH, ENGLAND