

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH OF THE SINKING OF THE BRITISH BATTLESHIP MAJESTIC BY THE GERMAN SUBMARINE U-51 IN THE DARDANELLES. The Supports of the Majestic's Torpedo Nets May Be Plainly Seen, As Well As Her Men Swarming Over Her Sides or Else Leaving in Boats. (Photo © International News Service.)

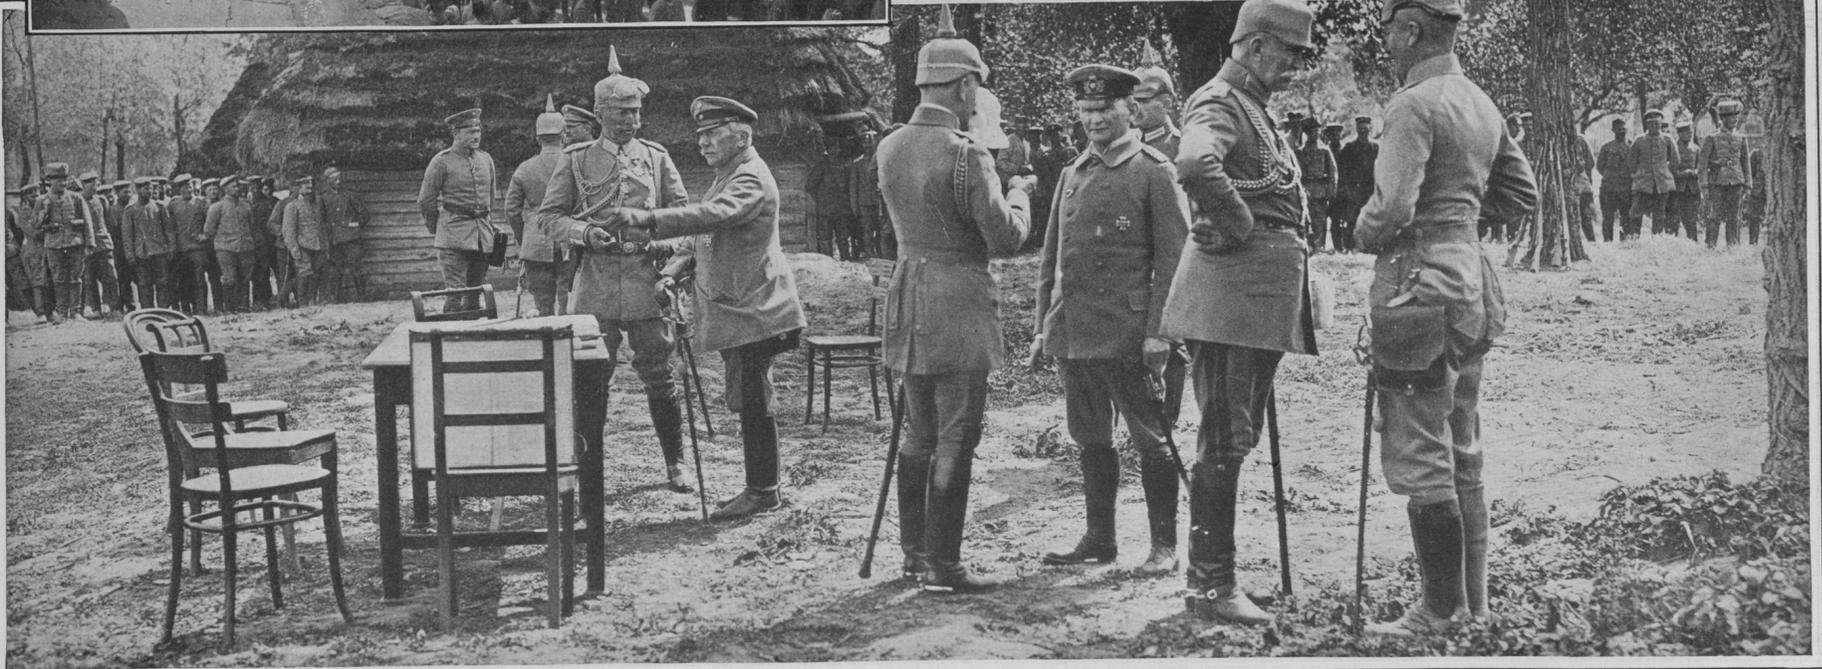

MONUMENT RAISED BY TURKS IN FORT SEDDEL-BAHR, DARDANELLES, BEFORE ITS CAPTURE.

Capped by an Unexploded Shell From the Allied Fleet, It Alone Escaped Destruction From the Subsequent Bombardment. (Photo by Medem Photo Service.)

Turkish Reinforcements Leaving Constantinople for the Gallipoli Peninsula. (Photos by Underwood & Underwood.)

Great Throng of Turks in Front of the Mosque of St. Sophia, Constantinople, Awaiting News From the Dardanelles Fighting.

GENERAL VON EMMICH, WHO CONDUCTED THE SIEGE OF LIEGE, EXPLAINING TO THE GERMAN EMPEROR THE WAR SITUATION ON THE SAN RIVER. The Kaiser's Hair and Mustache Appear Nearly White in This Photograph. (Photo by E. Sennecke, from Paul Thompson.)