

GREEKS CONCENTRATING TROOPS AT SALONIKI, THE LANDING PLACE OF THE ALLIES' REINFORCEMENTS INTENDED FOR THE SERBIANS.
 (Photos from American Press Ass'n.)

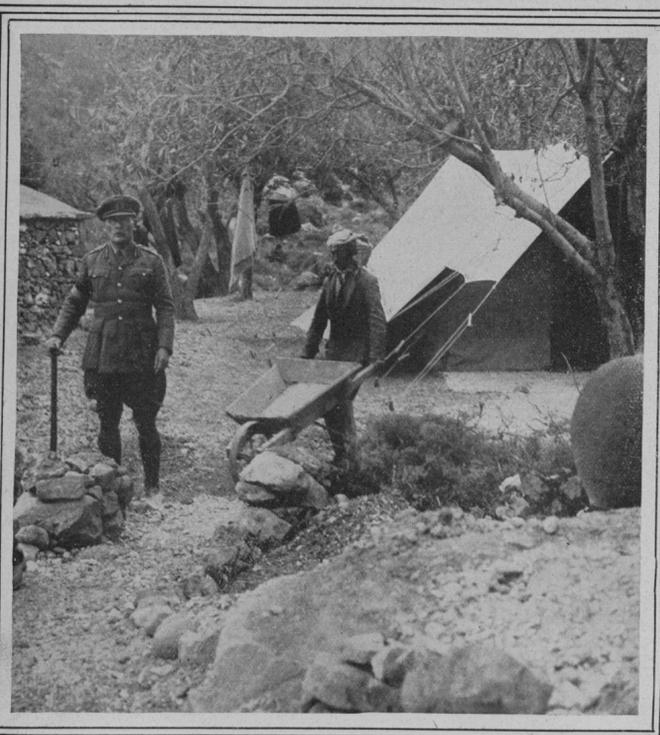

GREEK SOLDIERS, FULLY EQUIPPED, GATHERED ON THE DOCKS AT SALONIKI.

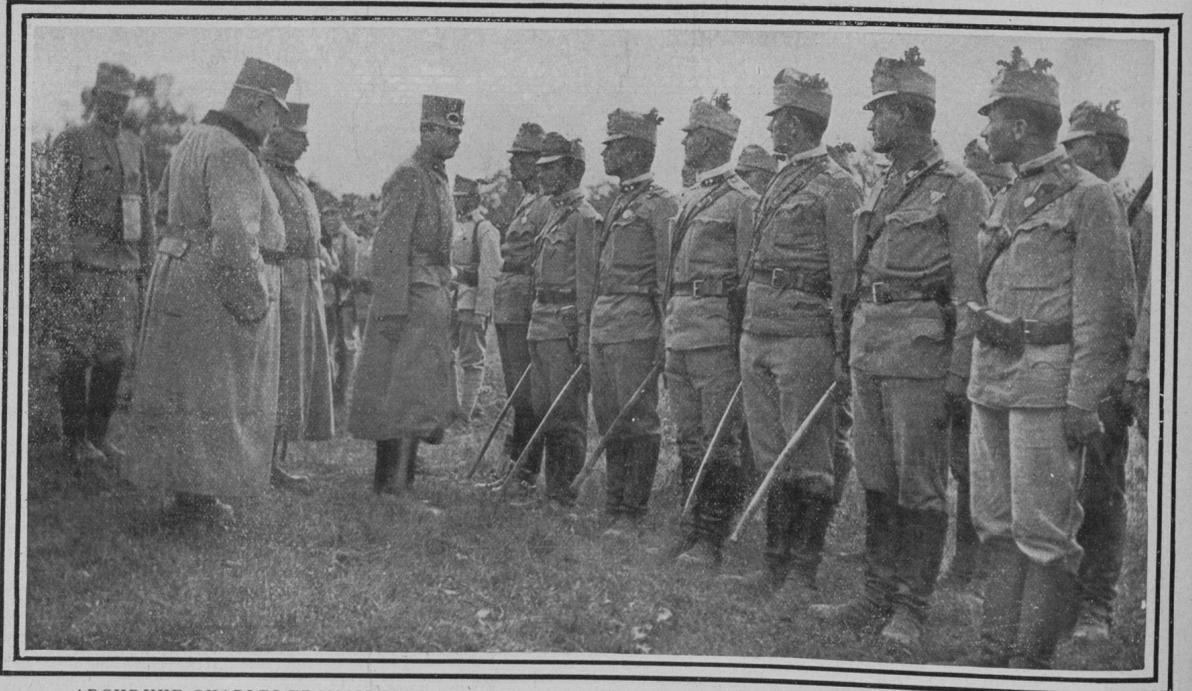

British Ship, Damaged Beyond Repair, Blown Up in the Dardanelles by the Allies to Free the Waters.

(Photos from American Press Ass'n.)

GENERAL ELLISON, THE BRITISH QUARTERMASTER GENERAL IN THE DARDANELLES, SUPERVISING THE PREPARATION OF HIS WINTER QUARTERS.

ARCHDUKE CHARLES FRANCIS JOSEPH, HEIR TO THE THRONE OF AUSTRIA-HUNGARY, INSPECTING HIS TROOPS, WHO HAVE DECORATED THEIR CAPS WITH AUTUMN LEAVES IN HONOR OF THE OCCASION.
 (Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)