

THE METROPOLITAN BISHOP OF ATHENS OFFICIATING AT THE OPENING OF THE GREEK PARLIAMENT. Immediately in Front of Him Are Alexander Zaimis, the Greek Premier, and Former Prime Minister Venizelos.

(Photo © American Press Assn., from Medem.)

MRS. ANTHONY CAMINETTI, Only Woman On the Committee Which Notified President Wilson of His Renomination.

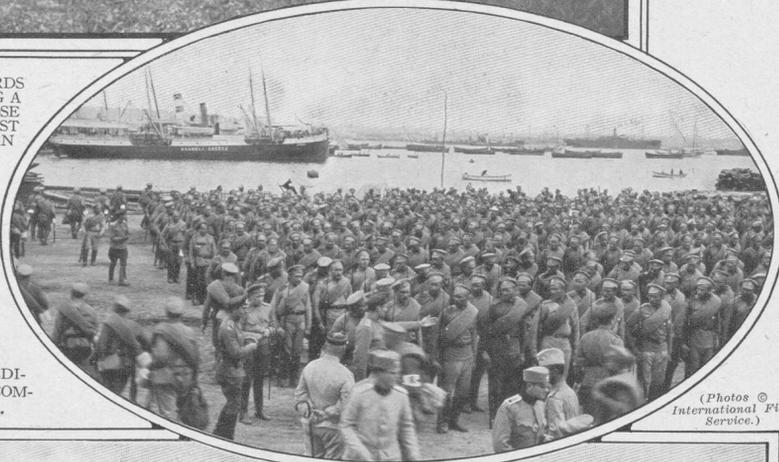

(Photo by Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson.)

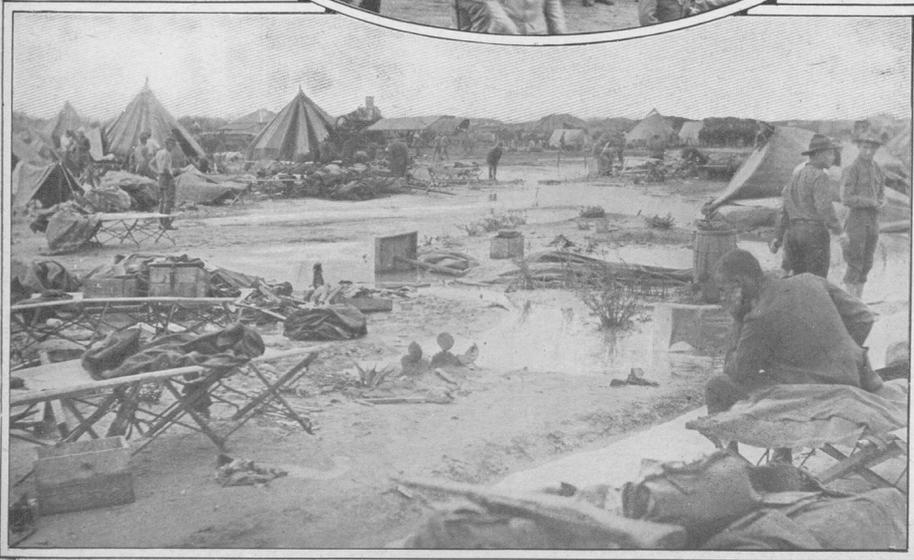

NATIONAL GUARDS MEN REPAIRING A WINDMILL WHOSE SALES THE AUGUST STORM HAD TORN TO SHREDS.

(Photo by Central News Photo Service.)

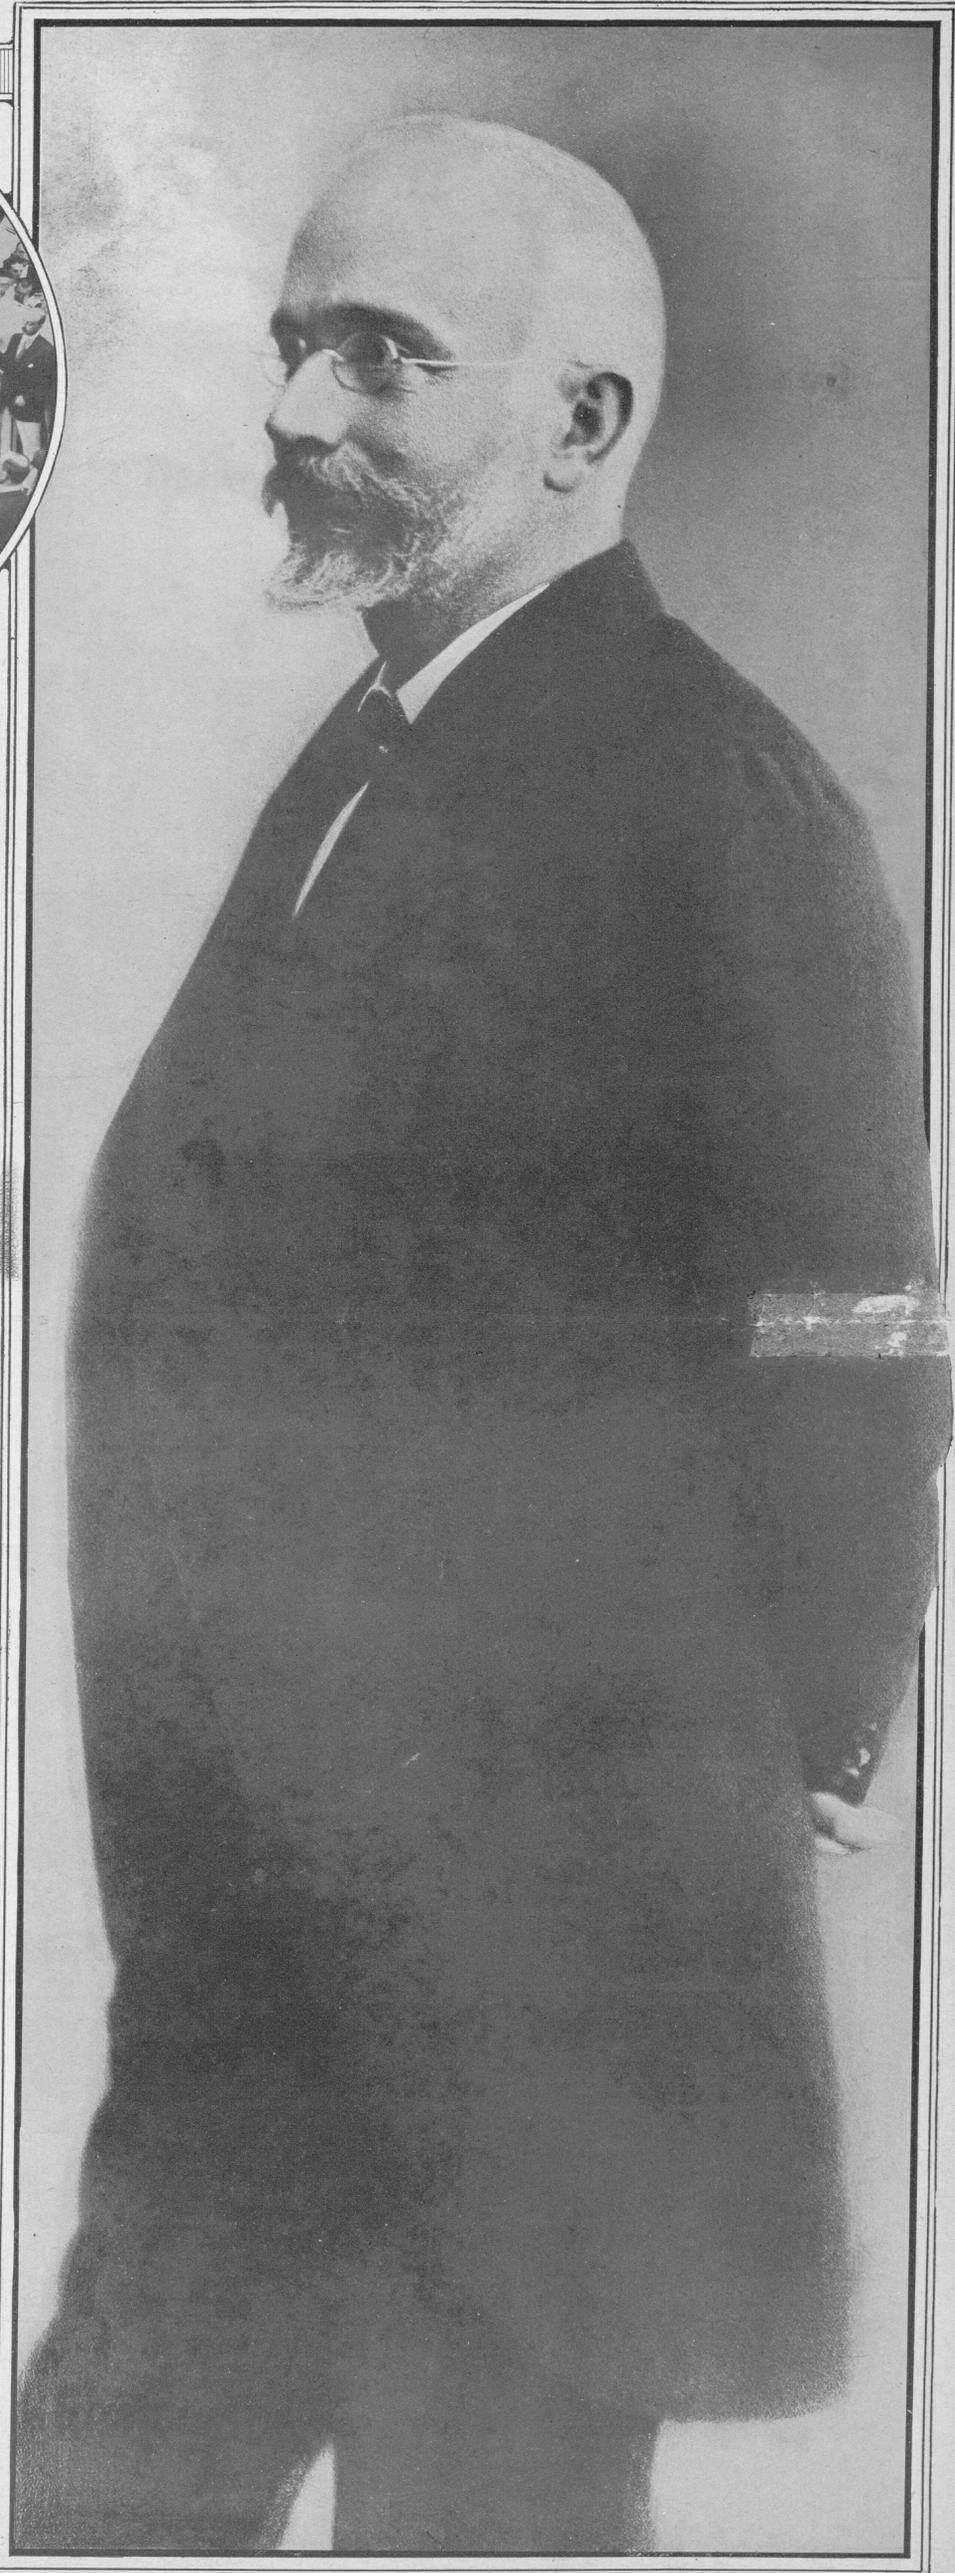

SECOND CONTINGENT OF RUSSIAN TROOPS DRAWN UP ON THE QUAY AT SALONIKI IMMEDIATELY AFTER COMING ASHORE.

(Photos © International Film Service.)

CAMP OF THE SECOND MISSOURI INFANTRY ON THE MEXICAN BORDER WHEN MORNING CAME AFTER THE NIGHT OF THE GREAT STORM OF AUGUST 18TH. The Eighteenth Had Been Very Hot and Close, and When Some of the Weather-wise Natives Advised the Men to Anchor Their Tents They Said: "No, It's Too Hot to Budge, We'll Do It Tomorrow."

M. ELEUTHERIOS VENIZELOS, Former Prime Minister of Greece, Regarded by Many As the Idol of the Greeks, Before Whose House in Athens Fifty Thousand People Recently Assembled to Cheer Him and His Espousal of the Cause of the Allies. (Photo © Kyprie.)