

IT'S RIGHT HERE
IN LITTLE OLD NEW YORK.
This might be the poet's "castled crag of Drachenfels" frowning "o'er the wide and winding Rhine" were it not the Hudson River bluffs at 185th Street, with the 35-room residence of Dr. Charles V. Paterno playing the part of the castle.

© American Press Association.