

Mary Servoss, who is leading lady in "Watch Your Neighbor," now playing at the Booth Theatre.

Here we see Mitzi in "Head Over Heels," at the Geo. M. Cohan Theatre. It's a rôle that calls for a lot of versatility.

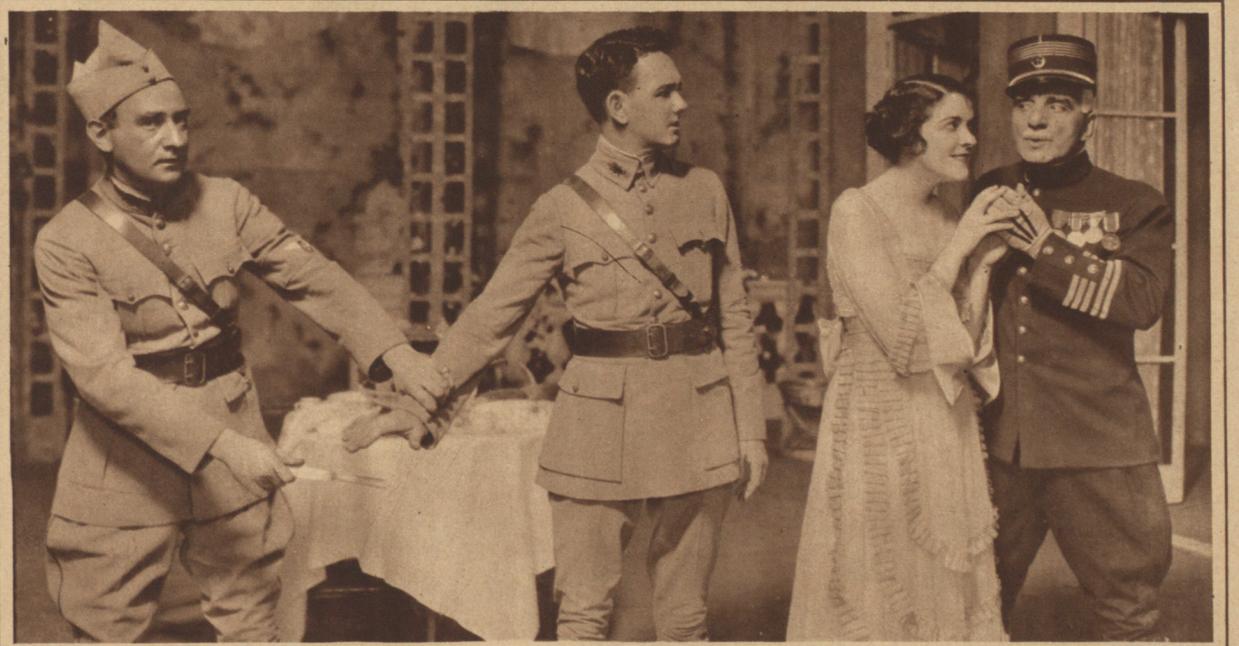

Otis Skinner and Beryl Mercer—a scene from "Humpty-Dumpty," current at the Lyceum.

Effie Shannon and Shelley Hull, starring together in "Under Orders," at the Eltinge Theatre. In the circle Mr. Hull is shown again.

Conrad Nagel and John Warner in "Forever After," a stirring war play at the new Central.

Marjorie Rambeau points the accusing finger in "Where Poppies Bloom," now at the Republic Theatre. The other players here shown are Pedro de Cordoba and Lewis Stone.

Jack Hazzard, Donald Brian, Wilda Bennett and Frank Doane in a new musical show, "The Girl Behind the Gun," playing at the New Amsterdam Theatre.