

Above—These are the chefs who cook the meals. As the President eats, so the President feels. President Wilson's Chefs.

Above—These are the men in whose guidance the ship 'Twixt New York and Brest made a safe, pleasant trip.

Shining in Reflected Glory

Photos from Gilliams Service

Above—This is the valet who presses his suits. Who chooses his neckties and blackens his boots. President Wilson's Valet.

Right—Ssh! These are the men of mystery bent. On guarding the path of the President. U. S. Secret Service Men.

Above—This is the doctor prescribing the pills That keep away mal de mer, fevers and chills. Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, President Wilson's personal physician.

Our much-loved Mrs. Fiske, as charming Nelly Daventry in that delightful comedy of moonshine, madness and make-believe—"Mis' Nelly of N'Orleans."

A Red Cross workroom, with a life-size doll baby who patiently endures all the fittings for infant's clothes. This week the Red Cross will make a tremendous drive for used clothing, to be distributed in Europe.

"Billy," the pet coon at Camp Jessup, Georgia, in an argument with the camp pup broke his leg—the post surgeon setting it. What happened to the dog is not reported. Tracy Mathevon

Winter sports in Sweden reach perhaps the acme of skill and daring. Ski-jumping is the most exciting of them all. This dizzy leap into space—perfectly performed—has all the thrills of aeroplaning.

Central News

SRUGRENA CHACE

THE Indians did well when they named this wonderful mountain paradise "Sunny Waters." They loved it, for it was all to them that a happy hunting ground could be. They never tired of the unending panorama of mountains, valleys, forests, streams and sky. The Black Bear and the Deer provided them with meat and raiment. Ruffed Grouse, Woodcock and Ducks tried their skill with such primitive hunting implements as they had. And from the lake and streams they took the Bass and Trout fresh to their campfires.

To-day Srugrena Chace is just as the Indians left it—except that it has been made fit for the modern sportsman or country gentleman. Now at the centre of its 5,000 acres of unsurpassed country stand a fine, completely equipped homestead and other buildings which make it a most desirable country estate; a splendid place to bring up children and equally good for grown ups who enjoy summer and winter sports. It is in famous Pike County, Pennsylvania, two and one-half hours from New York, within easy reach of the Shawnee Country Club golf course, and easily accessible by motor. It is just the sort of place that would win the heart of a real sportsman, and its price is most reasonable.

A booklet, beautifully illustrated with views of Srugrena Chace and telling of all its alluring attractions, has been prepared and will be sent upon request.

F. J. MYERS, Owner's Sec'y.
55 John St., N. Y. C. Phone John 4810.
(Full commission to brokers)