Left — The victor and the vanquished. Sixteen-year-old Vincent Richards, the New York boy tennis phenom, and W. T. Tilden, 2d, of Philadelphia, who ranked No. 2 among the ten best tennis players last season. Richards won the national indoor championship recently by defeating Tilden in a thrilling five-set struggle.

Paul Thompson.

The latest photograph of Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who has returned to civilian life with the intention of entering the political arena. Sponsored and supported by Republican leaders, "Teddy, Jr.," has cast his hat in the ring. Press Illustrating.

Above—Chief Machinist Francis B. Ormsbee, the first of our navy's heroes to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor (shown at the left). Rear Admiral Usher recently made the award at the Rockaway Naval Station. "Chief" Ormsbee won the coveted honor for extraordinary heroism in a seaplane accident at Pensacola last fall.

Edwin Levick.

Sec. of War Baker with M. L. Quezon, the distinguished head of the newly-arrived Philippine mission, which seeks the independence of those islands. Before sailing for France last Monday Sec. Baker expressed the hope that some way would be found to arrange for the parade of the 77th. So say we all of us! Paul Thompson.

Sec. of the Treas. Carter Glass will present this historic Old Glory, which flew from the Capitol on all important occasions since the inauguration of Pres. Wilson, to the state oversubscribing the largest percentage to the Victory Loan. Underwood & Underwood.

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, gracious hostess of the K. of C. hut at Longacre Square, with her daughter Muriel, dispenses eats to ever hungry doughboys.

Paul Thompson.

Right—Master Warren Pershing, who sailed for France last Monday on the Leviathan to visit his famous dad. As a bodyguard nine-year-old Master Pershing took along with him Sergeant Joseph Welz (left), a Yank doughboy who won the Croix de Guerre at Chateau Thierry.

Paul Thompson.