

A menacing funnel of dense black smoke rises over the Caspian Sea from a huge oil conflagration at Baku, great oil city and Caucasian seat of the Russian government.

C. M. Mirzoeff

Looking from the vestibule into the beautiful Gothic interior of the new church of the Dominican Friars, where Archbishop Hayes publicly pontificated for the first time last Sunday on the St. Vincent Ferrer quincentenary.

Kenneth Smith

Trenches of vast popularity were dug for the old-time barbecue with which Savannah, under the auspices of her Y. W. C. A., royally entertained her returned heroes. No slackers lagged behind at the order to attack.

War Camp Community Service

Italy's offering to President Wilson, a bronze statue of Dante on a large decorated pedestal.—another of the impressive gifts garnered by the President on his European tours.

Times Photo Service

An appealing little Japanese child leper, one of many cared for by the Methodist Church. The M. E. Missionary Centenary $105,000,000 fund is to be raised for vital work such as this.

L. C. Huber, Joughboy hero just home from France, brings his girl—a unique souvenir—a belt of more than 20 styles of military medals and insignia.

Underwood & Underwood

RAFTS

A la United States and Filipino—

Left — Enormous "cigar raft" on the Columbia River in Oregon, containing millions of feet of timber ingeniously shaped and bound together with chains.

Right — Largest cocoanut pie in captivity! A unique raft of the huge round nuts, near the island of Luzon, in the Philippines.

Reynolds View

