

Mr. Ernest Wadsworth, a British artist, paints a portrait of a camouflaged ship which is a study in Cubism. Mr. Wadsworth, during the war, was in charge of ship camouflaging at Bristol and Liverpool, where he designed the futurist coat in which disguise the Aquitania eluded U-boats. Keystone View

The residential section of Omaha suffered severely from the recent tornado, the second to visit the city in the past few years. Roof and hood were ripped from this house and automobile, and the "Keep off the Grass" sign jumped into the chauffeur's seat. Western Newspaper Union

A gas attack which is rough on rats. A new use for the poison gas of the great war. The gas is injected into the rat holes, killing every unfortunate rodent inhabitant. Rabbit victims of a gas raid may be safely eaten, as they are not left in a poisonous condition. Western Newspaper Union

A Wife Too Many

Into the hotel lobby walked a beautiful woman and a distinguished man. Little indeed did the gay and gallant crowd know that around these heads there flew stories of terror---of murder---and treason---that on their entrance, half a dozen detectives sprang up from different parts of the place.

Because of them the lights of the War Department in Washington blazed far into the night. With their fate was wound the tragedy of a broken marriage, of a fortune lost, of a nation betrayed.

It is a wonderful story, with the kind of mystery that you will sit up nights trying to fathom. It is just one of the stories fashioned by that master of mystery

ARTHUR B. REEVE

(The American Conan Doyle)

CRAIG KENNEDY

(The American Sherlock Holmes)

He is the detective genius of our age. He has taken science---science that stands for this age---and allied it to the mystery and romance of detective fiction. Even to the smallest detail, every bit of the plot is worked out scientifically. For nearly ten years America has been watching his Craig Kennedy---marvelling at the strange new, startling things that detective hero would unfold. Such plots---such suspense---with real, vivid people moving through the maelstrom of life! Frenchmen have mastered the art of terror stories. English writers have thrilled whole nations by their artful heroes. Russian ingenuity has fashioned wild tales of mystery. But all these seem old-fashioned---out-of-date---beside the infinite variety, the weird excitement, of Arthur B. Reeve's tales.

Col. Roosevelt said:—"I did a lot of reading. I particularly enjoyed half a dozen rattling good detective stories by Arthur B. Reeve---some of them were corkers."

FREE 10 Volumes POE

To those who send the coupon promptly we will give FREE a set of Edgar Allan Poe's works in 10 volumes.

When the police of New York failed to solve one of the most fearful murder mysteries of the time, Edgar Allan Poe---far off there in Paris---found the solution. The story is in these volumes.

He was a detective by instinct---he was a story-teller by divine inspiration. Before or since---no one has ever had his power to make your hair stand on end---to send chills up your back---to hold you in terror---horror. To read breathlessly---to try to guess the ending---to enjoy the perfect, flawless style---to feel the power of the master---that is all you can do in each and all of Poe's undying stories.

Get yourself a thousand nights of pleasure and forgetfulness---of thrills and excitement---by reading ARTHUR B. REEVE.

This is a wonderful combination. Here are two of the greatest writers of mystery and scientific detective stories. You can get the Reeve in 12 volumes at a remarkably low price, and Poe, 10 volumes, over 200 stories, FREE.

TWO SHELVES OF BOOKS

President Wilson's Blessed Intervals

President Wilson is quoted as saying: "There are blessed intervals when I forget, by one means or another, that I am the President of the United States. One means by which I forget is to get a rattling good detective story; get after some imaginary offender and chase him all over."
