

The extraordinary "parasol-plane" of a Frisco plumber, which its builder expects to revolutionize the flying industry—hoping to fly the Pacific in the near future. I. F. S.

A force of revolutionists in Montenegro surrender to the 332nd Infantry, U. S. A., and lay down their arms to help unload American Red Cross supplies of flour which are to save their starving people. I. F. S.

Mrs. Harry Hawker, happiest woman in England, waits at the Brooklands Aviation Fields to greet her husband. During the days of uncertainty when the daring Australian aviator was given up as lost Mrs. Hawker never lost hope. I. F. S.

Dr. Patrick McCartan, accredited envoy of the Irish Republic to the United States, will not be officially recognized by the government unless Congress passes the bill providing for a diplomatic corps to Ireland. Gillians Service

Nick Gianakopoulos, the famous long distance runner, was among the 48 Yankee athletes who sailed recently to help win the interallied championship track meet which takes place near Paris late this month. Bain News Service

Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, winner of the women's Eastern golf title at the Apawamis Country Club last week, captained the Quaker City women's team in their victory over the fair golfers from the Hub two days later. I. F. S.

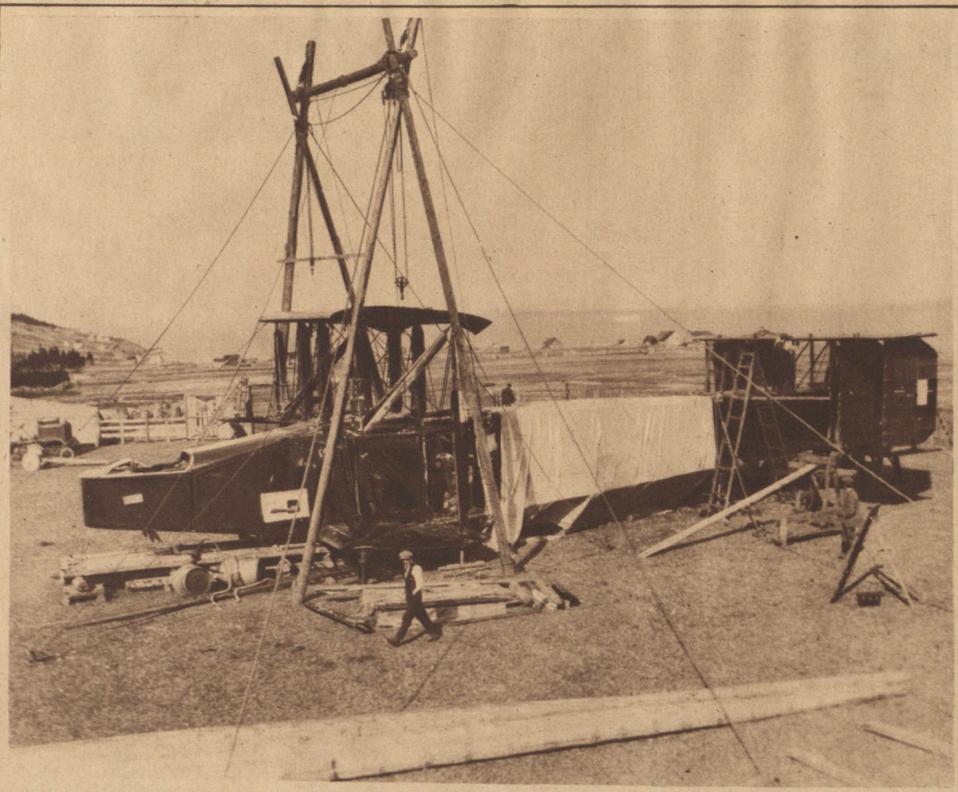

The "Flexible Air Camel," invented by Lt. Russell Gordon, R.N., R.A.F., for the salvage of torpedoed ships—they are packed into the submerged ship and then pumped full of air until the ship is gradually raised. Underwood

Packers of Chicago have sent this giant beef to President Poincaré for a peace breakfast, the day peace is signed. Crow en casserole will be the pièce de résistance of the German delegates. I. F. S.

Jack Dempsey is given a day off from his strenuous training for his Fourth of July championship heavyweight match with Jess Willard at Toledo, and spends it on the water, taking along one of man's best friends for companionship. I. F. S.

England's giant transatlantic contestant, the Handley-Page machine which is being assembled at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, for the great flight. The rudders are in position and the plane is ready for her wings and landing wheels. She will carry an elaborate wireless equipment to minimize the dangers of the undertaking. Keystone View

"Clean-up week" hits Leipzig, Germany, and a squadron of toothpaste tanks, driven by one fritz-power engines, amble through the streets—a novel phase of Teuton advertising methods in vogue at the recent Leipzig fair. A. N. Miv200ff