CONCENTRATION is Power. Concentration is the ability to control the mind—to focus it upon any task, any time. Such power means the key to success.

Minds That Fail

Failures in school can almost always be traced to one of the following types of minds:

1. The Grasshopper mind—the mind that nibbles at everything and masters nothing.
2. The Colorless mind—the mind that is unable to picture or use words. It is the most pathetic of all types, because it is almost wordless.
3. The I-Don't-Care mind—the mind that has become hardened by discouragement.
4. The Timid mind—the mind that lacks self-assertion.
5. The Hazy mind—the mind that is never certain of anything.
6. The Preoccupied mind—the mind that is never at home.
7. The Frivolous mind—the mind that regards all work as useless.

If a boy comes under the first of these heads he mirrors a teacher who works without methods, without purpose, without plan.

If a pupil fits in the second division he reflects a teacher who is always annexed to a book—a teacher who is lost unless he can read a text. Such a teacher hasn't any business in a schoolroom.

If a student can be placed under the third variety he reflects a type of teacher who drives more boys from school than any other—a teacher who is forever dashing cold water on budding hopes and desires. Such a teacher is as out of place in a schoolroom as an iceberg is in a flower garden.

If the learner passes under number four he reflects the misfit teacher—a teacher who has chosen the wrong profession.

If a lad belongs in the fifth class he reflects a teacher with a misty mind—a teacher who acts as if he had a blister on his brain.

If the candidate for college falls into the sixth division he reflects a teacher who always arrives at a railway station after his train has departed. Such a teacher is never able to cover a course in school.

If the boy feels at home in the seventh class he reflects a teacher who hates work, who lacks the power of application, and who is generally a slave to pleasure. Such a teacher is a nuisance in a schoolroom.

At the CLARK SCHOOL FOR CONCENTRATION the foregoing types of mind have been carefully studied, and as a consequence very gratifying results have been obtained. THE STUDENTS OF THE CLARK SCHOOL REFLECT THEIR TEACHERS THROUGH THE RECORDS THEY MAKE.
