

Troops Who First Bore the Brunt of the World War

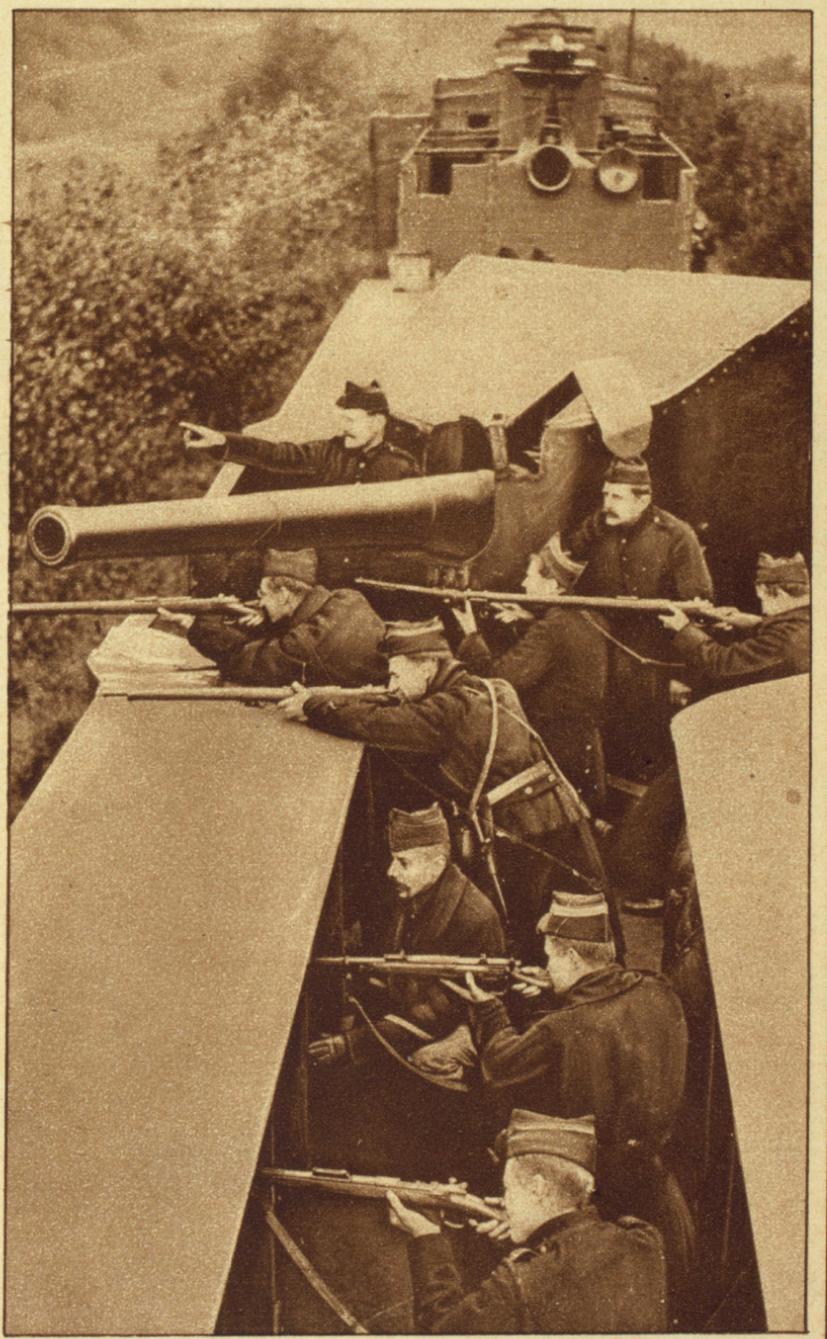

WEARY AND MUD-BESPATTERED BELGIAN TROOPS WHO HAVE BEEN FIGHTING IN THE OOZY SLIME OF THE TRENCHES MOVING FORWARD TO TAKE UP A NEW POSITION NEAR FURNES.

(© International News Service.)

A LONG LINE OF BELGIAN SOLDIERS ASSIGNED TO TRENCH DUTY ALONG A SPECIALLY DANGEROUS SECTION OF THE FRONT.

BELGIAN SHARPSHOOTERS DASHING ALONG A RAILROAD LINE IN AN ARMORED CAR AND HARASSING THE FOE.